REPUBLICANS SPEAK.

Hon. Edwin S. Stuart Addressed Bradford County Voters.

MADE A GOOD IMPRESSION.

After Reception at Ward House, Messrs. Stuart, Schaffer and Lilley Make Addresses at Hale's Opera House and in Sayre—Well Received.

The visit to Towanda Friday afternoon of Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, candidate for governor, and several of the men associated with him on the Republican ticket was the means of bringing out voters in large numbers and the mass meeting, held in Hale's Opera House in the afternoon was largely attended, considerable enthusiasm being shown by the audience. The campaigning party arrived just before noon, and were met at the East Towanda station by the Germania band and committee of arrangements, as well as other local Republican leaders. In the party were, beside Mr. Stuart, Hon. Robert K. Young of Tioga County, candidate for auditor general, Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart, of the Pennsylvania State Militia, and Hon. W. I. Schaffer of Chester. With the campaigners was a party of Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Harisburg newspaper correspondents. Colonel Lewis E. Beitler of Harrisburg was in charge of the traveling arrangements.

Stuart's Address.

Immediately after dinner at the Ward House, an informal reception was held for the candidate for the governorship, and a number of voters were greeted by Mr. Stuart and other members of the party. At 1:30 o'clock the speakers marched to the opera house where William McCabe called the assemblage to order and asked for nominations for chairman. Hon. Louis Piollet of Wysox, was unanimously chosen, and without further ceremony, he introduced Mr. Stuart, who was greeted with hearty applause as he rose to speak. In his address, the candidate began with a statement that it was a remarkable campaign that had developed. He had not been a candidate for the nomination, and had hesitated, when he was made aware that he would be placed before the convention. "Had I considered my own personal comfort or welfare, as well as my material gain, I would not have accepted the responsibility," said Mr. Stuart, "but such a course would have been that of a coward. I determined to go into the fight to which my party has called me, and to win if possible, the honor which will be mine in the event of my election. Parties, like individuals, or business enterprises, can not rest upon what they have done, but must keep striving for better things; we must keep going, for it is in what we hope to accomplish that our greatest good lies. During the administration just ended there has been a remarkable amount of good legislation enacted, and I want to call your attention to a few of the things the Republican party has accomplished. There is the primary election law, acknowledged everywhere as a distinct advaance in the government of our commonwealth; also the personal registration law," and the speaker explained the advantages of each of these new acts. He then drew attention to the fact that President Roosevelt had in plain terms, endorsed the work of the Pennsylvania legislature. At every mention of the President's name, of which there were three in Mr. Stuart's remarks, the heartiest kind of applause broke forth.

Mr. Stuart did not dodge the capital question. Upon that point he said: "I promise you that if elected I will be no man's man, and I pledge you that I shall have an investigation made of the expenditures, and if it shall be found that there was any wrong doing I shall do my utmost to bring the offenders, no matter whom or what they are, to justice."

In concluding, Mr. Stuart said with emphasis that could not fail of effect, that he desired here and now to pledge to the people of the state, his support of the President of the United States and further to uphold and enforce with all the power of enforcing the trolley roads to carry freight, that the farmer might have better facilities for marketing the products of his farm. He stated his belief in the regulation and control of corporations in the interests of the people.

"And now, I want to say to you voters of Bradford county, you can not straddle the fence in this election as our Democratic friends would have you believe; you must be either Democrat or Republican; I have no personal feeling against any one on the other tickets, but I tell you plainly that a vote against the congressman of your district is a vote against the Hon. Joseph Cannon for speaker of the house for the coming term. A vote for Lilley means a vote for Cannon, a vote for Dalzell and a vote for President Roosevelt."

General Stewart was the next speaker, and in a voice perfectly controlled and modulated made a powerful address upon the issues of the contest, stating by way of introduction that he was not a candidate for any office, but that he was out to do what he could for the party in which he believed now and forever.

"I am proud of Pennsylvania, proud of the Republican party in Pennsylvania, and proud of the candidates named on the present ticket, because I know them to be honest, upright and to have ability." In the course of his speech, General Stewart paid a magnificent tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, which brought tears to the eyes of a number of veterans present.

Fine Address by Attorney Schaffer.

From a literary and oratorical standpoint, the address made by W. I. Schaffer was the treat of the meeting, and it may be safely said that he is one of the most finished and fluent speakers that has addressed a Towanda audience in many a day. Mr. Schaffer emphasized the fact that in the present contest, the eyes of the whole country are turned upon the Keystone state, for if Pennsylvania shall falter in her course of rock-ribbed Republicanism, then will the faith of leaders everywhere be shaken; Mr. Schaffer made a telling point when he referred to the campaigns conducted by the Democratic party against General U. S. Grant, who was defamed and villified, but who won partly through this very course. The treatment accorded the late James G. Blaine, was characterized by the speaker as a lasting disgrace to the political life of our country, yet in the state of Pennsylvania, the same thing is being done by the men in charge of the Democratic campaign. In conclusion, Mr. Schaffer read from an editorial in the Philadelphia Ledger, a tribute paid in the first person to Edwin S. Stuart on the conclusion of his term as mayor of the city of Philadelphia. After reading the remarkable enconium in this conservative journal, Mr. Schaffer said feelingly, "I would rather have that said of me than to be elected to any office, and we who know this man, know that the Ledger did not say too much."

Congressman Lilley Spoke.

Congressman Lilley spoke for a few minutes following Mr. Schaffer, and declared that he was being made the object of an attack which even his opponent could scarcely countenance. He welcomed Democratic opposition, and respected his Democratic opponent, but he desired his friends and neighbors to rebuke at the polls the efforts of those whose only campaign capital is mud with which to blacken character.

The entire party left late in the afternoon for Sayre, where another meeting was held that night. Candidate for Lieutenant Governor R. S. Murphy, who was to have spoken here was prevented owing to a severe case of sore throat.

BALLOTS BEING PRINTED.

Ten Party Squares for Bradford Voters to Choose From.

More than 50,000 election ballots and specimens are being printed this week for the use of Bradford county voters on Tuesday next. The ballots this year in this county have ten party squares, so that whatever his political convictions, a man may be accommodated in finding a caididate to meet his views.

In the order named, the following parties are represented on the baliots: Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Socialist, Socialist Labor, Citizens, Commonwealth, Lincoln, Referendum, Union Labor. The last two have no local candidates, but the Socialist ticket is complete with the exception of congressman. The names of Mial E. Lilley and George W. Kipp, rival candidates in the congressional fight, appears but once each on the ballot, on account of both of these candidates being ruled out of the Lincoln party nominations by the Dauphin county court. G. P. Little, a Wyoming county man, is running on the Prohibition ticket for congress.

The names of two men from the Northern part of the county appear upon the ballot as candidates on the Socialist ticket for representative in the general assembly; they are Hugh McDuffie and Henry L. Springer.

Bloomsburg's Benefactor Dead.

A cable message has been received in Bloomsburg, anonuncing the death of Joseph Ratti, of that town, which occurred on Tuesday at his Summer home in Rageno, Italy. Mr. Ratti left Bloomsburg early last Spring and became ill shortly after reaching Italy. He was interested in a large number of industries at Bloomsburg, and it was through his philanthropy that the Joseph Ratti hospital, in that town, was established last year.

Sixty-Five Years in Ministry.

Rev. Thomas Mitchell, now nearing 89 years of age, celebrated the sixty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the gospel ministry on Sunday in the Troy Baptist church.

CHANGES IN BOARD OF HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

Regular Meeting and Nurses Graduating Exercises Held Tuesday.

At a regular meeting of the board of trustees of the R. A. Packer hospital, held at Sayre Tuesday of last week, four trustees were elected to take the places of the following whose resignations were accepted: Willard Kells, who was obliged to move from Sayre to a larger field of activity; J. T. Sawyer, president of the Citizens bank, of Waverly, whose term of office expired; J. H. Turrelle and B. W. Jennings, whose recent deaths have been mentioned in this paper. Those elected to fill these places are Dr. Estis of St. Luke's hospital, South Bethlehem, former Judge E. M. Dunham of Sayre, John H. Murray of South Waverly, and Dr. J. W. Chamberlin of Wyalusing.

In his report to the trustees, Dr. C. H. Ott, surgeon-in-chief of the hospital, stated that the work of the widely known institution has increased to a remarkable extent during the last year. During the months of July, August and September there have been more operations, more dispensary cases and more cases coming to the hospital for treatment than in any similar period in the history of the institution. Dr. Ott gave the trustees an outline of the figures of a report he was to make at the public graduating exercises in the evening, which shows the amount of work accomplished during the past year. He also showed the trustees some alterations being made upon the interior of the main building for the better accommodation of the nurses, whose work he praised in high terms.

The graduating exercises of the training school for nurses was held Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church, a number of persons interested in the work being present. Rev. P. R. Ross, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Waverly, delivered the address to the graduating class, and the following nurses received diplomas and the official pin of the graduate nurse:

Misses Sadie Peters, Maud Himan, Maud Gray, and Charlotte Norris.

Upon the board of trustees appear the names of several prominent Towanda men.

The diplomas were presented to the nurses by Henry Streeter of Towanda, president of the board of trustees, Mr. Streeter said that at a meeting of the trustees, held just previous to the commencement exercises action had been taken in the memory of Mrs. Mary A. Polley, whose untimely death prevented her from graduating with her class. He paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Polley's life and said that the action taken by the trustees would be inscribed upon the records of the hospital.

TWO KILLED, ONE INJURED.

Frightful Accident at North Avenue Crossing, Owego, Wednesday.

George Cunningham of Richford, and Timothy Cortwright of Flemingville, were instantly killed, and Vernon Gage, of Richford, was seriously injured by being struck by an Erie engine at the North avenue crossing in Owego last week Wednesday morning. The men were riding in a buggy and the vehicle was completely demolished and the horse killed in the accident. It is not known how the men happened to drive upon the track. The engine was drawing a caboose only.

Coroner E. E. Bauer and Dr. A. F. Rupert attended Gage at Sweeney's Hotel, where he was removed. The bodies of Cunningham and Cortwright were removed to Emmons's undertaking establishment. Coroner Bauer will hold an inquest Thursday. Engineer Rude of Hornell, was in charge of the engine.

Hallowe'en Observance Condemned.

"The origination of Hallowe'en" was the subject of the sermon delivered at the Holy Savior church, Wilkes-Barre, on Sunday evening, Oct. 28, by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Curran. The reason for dwelling on this particular subject was the result of the celebration in Wilkes-Barre on Wednesday night. Father Curran stated that Hallowe'en comes down from the time of the pagans who made a practice of adoring false Gods, creatures, and other objects, and advised the members of his congregation not to indulge in the different amusements now being practiced on that day, which precedes "All Saint's Day," one of the most conspicious holidays on the calendar of the Catholic church. The term Hallowe'en is a Latin word meaning the evening preceding the day of All Saints and he did not think that any good Catholic should play too much on a night preceding such a holy day. The large edifice was filled to the doors and the speaker had the attention of his listeners throughout the sermon.

Will Move to Ohio.

Prof. and Mrs. F. D. Deming are disposing of their household goods preparatory to moving to Ohio, where Mr. Deming has a position as organist.

ROOSEVELT AND CONGRESS.

The Kipp managers, fishing for Republican votes, are telling the people that Kipp is a Roosevelt man and will support the President, and that it is immaterial whether congress is Republican or Democratic. To this the President says no. Here are his words. Let every Republican read them:

Oyster Bay, N. Y., August 18, 1906.

My Dear Mr. Watson:—I hear, through Speaker Cannon and Representative Sherman, that you have volunteered to give your services to the Congressional Committee for the entire campaign, without regard to the effect it may have upon your own district; and I feel like writing you a word of congratulation and of earnest hope for the success of your efforts. IF THERE WERE ONLY PARTISAN ISSUES INVOLVED IN THIS CONTEST I SHOULD HESITATE TO SAY ANYTHING PUBLICLY IN REFERENCE THERETO. BUT I DO NOT FEEL THAT SUCH IS THE CASE. ON THE CONTRARY, I FEEL THAT ALL GOOD CITIZENS WHO HAVE THE WELFARE OF AMERICA AT HEART SHOULD APPRECIATE THE IMMENSE AMOUNT THAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY THE PRESENT CONGRESS ORGANIZED AS IT IS, AND THE URGENT NEED OF KEEPING THIS ORGANIZATION IN POWER. With Mr. Cannon as Speaker, the House has accomplished a literally phenomenal amount of good work. It has shown a courage, good sense and patriotism such that it would be a real and serious misfortune for the country to fail to recognize. TO CHANGE THE LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATION OF THE HOUSE AT THIS TIME MEANS TO BRING CONFUSION UPON THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFULLY ENGAGED IN THE STEADY WORKING OUT OF A GREAT AND COMPREHENSIVE SCHEME FOR THE BETTERMENT OF OUR SOCIAL, INDUSTRIAL AND CIVIC CONDITIONS. SUCH A CHANGE WOULD SUBSTITUTE A PURPOSELESS CONFUSION, A VIOLENT AND HURTFUL OSCILLATION BETWEEN THE POSITIONS OF THE EXTREME RADICAL AND THE EXTREME REACTIONARY, FOR THE PRESENT ORDERLY PROGRESS ALONG THE LINES OF A CAREFULLY THOUGHT-OUT POLICY.

BEATEN ABOUT BY BROKEN BELT.

Operations Suspended at Frosts' Factory for a Few Hours.

When the immense main belt which sends power from the engine to all parts of the J. O. Frost's Sons Furniture factory broke at 8:30 Wednesday morning, it made a noise like an explosion, and the great piece of flying leather, loosened from its regular path, tore things up at a lively rate for a few minutes. Among the objects coming in contact with the loose belt was the valve of a fire hose, and in an instant a stream of water was being thrown around the first floor.

A number of employees, unable to see what had happened, ran from the factory. After the power had been shut off, and the belt gathered up, it was found that the damage was not so extensive as might have been supposed; work was resumed after a delay of about two hours. Luckily no one was injured by the accident.

Biddle—Terry.

At the home of the bride's parents in New Albany, the wedding ceremony was performed on Oct. 18, which united Miss Myrtle Terry and Harry W. Biddle, Rev. M. D. Lyke officiating. Following the ceremony, a bountiful repast, and the young couple amid a shower of rice, departed after receiving the congratulations of a large company of friends who witnessed the ceremony. The groom is a resident of Williamsport, in which city Mr. and Mrs. Biddle will reside.

Thank You Again.

While the political frenzy is running wild in nearly every Bradford county newspaper one cannot help but note the cleanliness of The Towanda Daily Review, which has been enlarged to a six-page paper filled with the local and general news, fresh while it is news. Towanda has a right to be proud of its daily paper.—Elmira Telegram.

Towanda Hospital Auxiliary.

There will be a special meeting of the Towanda Ladies' Auxiliary of the Robert Packer hospital held at the home of Mrs. M. A. Watkins, in Main street, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 1, at 3 o'clock. It is especially requested that every member of the auxiliary be present as business of importance is to come up.

Show Him Towanda's Wood Pave.

Dissatisfied with the manner in which the paved streets of Altoona were being cleaned, Mayor Walker personally took charge of the street cleaning squad. In about three hours they accompished more work than had been accomplished in three days before. He kept the "White Wings" on the jump.

Waverly Beat Sayre.

The Waverly foot ball team defeated the Sayre team Saturday in a well played game by a score of 5 to 0. The Sayre team was lighter than the home team, but had a faculty of preventing Waverly scoring more than one touchdown. The Waverly boys need to practice team work. They will play the All-Elmira team next Saturday.

SALT WATER HERRING FOUND IN CHEMUNG.

State Fisheries Commissioner Meehan Says Fish Had Traveled Far.

By his unremitting efforts, Fish Warden W. E. Shoemaker of Laceyville, bids fair to increase the knowledge of the state fisheries commission and possibly add to the natural history of the state. A fish that he took from a man arrested for illegal fishing has proved to be an estuary herring, known for genrations in its habitat as "alewife."

From correspondence between the local fish warden and the state officials, it is plain that so far as known to them, this species of fish has never before been found so far away from tide water. Unable himself to identify the fish, Shoemaker showed it to several local experts, some of whom believed it was a species of shad; the fish was about six inches long, and more slender than a shad or similar fish. Harry Babcock of Waverly, took the fish from the Chemung river, at a point about a mile below Tozer's bridge. When it was sent to State Fish Commissioner W. E. Meehan, he identified it and stated it to be a remarkable instance of a tide-water fish traveling inland; the point from where it was taken from the river was nearly 300 miles from where the fish is to be commonly found.

Real War for Army.

The merchants in the vicinity of Market Square in Williamsport, have lately risen in protest against the attitude assumed by the leader of the Salvation Army and his band of converts who assemble nightly in the square for the purpose of holding their outdoor services, and it is quite possible that the matters will soon be brought to a focus as a measure prohibiting the blocking of the sidewalks on Saturday nights as a result of the meetings will in all probability be put into effect.

Juror on a Cot.

An unusual scene was witnessed in the Wayne county court, when Charles Pethick, a juror in a murder trial, was carried into court on a cot, where he remained listening to the testimony for a whole session. He had been taken ill very suddenly, suffering from chills and fever. In order that the cause could proceed, he agreed to be wrapped in blankets and taken into the court room, where he lay on a cot and listened to the proceedings in the case.

House Burned Near Canton.

Harry Freer, of this place, who owned a house on Bunyan hill, near Canton, received a telephone message Monday that his property had been destroyed by fire during Saturday night, or early Sunday morning. Mr. Free has $1,000 insurance upon the place, and went Monday afternoon to examine the extent of the damage, and learn, if possible, the cause of the fire.

New Railroad Rates.

The new schedule of rates in the passenger department of the Lehigh Valley, which go into effect on Nov. 1 have been received at the different stations, and show a substantial reduction in the fares from Towanda to all points. The rate for one way from Towanda to Sayre, which has been 51 cents will become 45 cents.

Vanderpool—Heeman.

At the home of the parents of the young bride, Attorney Charles M. Hall performed the wedding ceremony on Oct. 13, which united George Vanderpool and Miss Ella Heeman.

TROY COURT TRIES CALENDAR CASES.

Eight of the Fifteen Suits on Calendar Disposed Of.

During the October term of county court concluded last week at Troy, where Judge A. C. Fanning presided, there were settled several cases which have been in litigation some time, and several others which it was desired to settle finally at this term were obliged to go over. There were 15 cases on the calendar, the first of which was that of Charles L. Straight, Joseph Prescott, vs. Alpheus G. Marcellus, Narcissa E. Marcellus, Alice Marcellus and Harry B. Corey. This was an ejectment proceeding, in which the plea of not guilty had been made. The jury found for the plaintiff, in the lands described in the writ, and by the direction of the court, the verdict may be set aside, if, wihin 90 days, the defendants shall pay to the plaintiff the sum of $675 and pay record costs upon which payment a conveyance of the lands in question shall be made to Narcissa Marcellus.

The next case, G. M. Smith vs. Jennie L. Smith and Bert W. Williams, replevin, was settled.

The divorce suit brought by E. L. Andrews against Huldah Andrews, the request for a jury trial was withdrawn, an amended libel filed and a rule granted in respondent to file answer to amnded libel, within five days from day of service. And in default thereof, the same to be proceded with ex parte.

The case of Jay W. Newman and Ellen M. Newman against Harry S. Baldwin, a defendant's appeal was unfinished.

There was a disagreement of the jury in the case of H. G. Grinnell vs. William A. Gernert. The suit involves the sum of $13.85, and after one long session the jury is said to have stood three for the plaintiff and nine for defendant. They were sent back and had not reported yet on Monday morning.

One of the cases most earnestly desired to be tried and disposed of was that of John Kelly against Granville township; this is a case in trespass, in which a number of witnesses have to be brought a considerable distance, but there were legal difficulties in the way of commencing the trial, and it was again put over.

A settlement has been reached in the matter of Catherine Barnes against the borough of Canton, and a verdict for the defendant was found in the case of Peleg Peck, executor of Mial Watkins vs. Walter Watkins.

A Prize Ear.

The corn crop is without doubt as good as our agriculturists have harvested in years. S. W. Johnson had a few acres on the land of James M. Benham just East of Main street and the yield is enormous and many of the ears would be prize ones at an agricultural fair. A sample ear brought to the Times office was 14 inches long and had by actual count 487 kernels.—Eastern Times, Le-Raysville.

The most powerful of all parlor heaters is the

Art Andes Heater

The Art Andes is made in two sizes, each the most powerful parlor heater obtainable in proportion to its size and fuel capacity.

The same superior construction that makes the Art Andes give out so much heat when run full, also makes it give a moderate heat with less fuel than any other stove requires.

The Art Andes is a perfect base burner, and every size can be made a double heater. It is the only base burner made with all the nickeled parts entirely removable, and all parts are made very heavy, preventing warping and opening of joints, and insuring great durability. Grate is duplex.

We will be glad to show you the Art Andes and the other peaks in the Andes chain at our store anytime.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

A GOOD MEETING.

Not in years have our citizens had the privilege of listening to so many good speeches as they did at the Republican mass meeting in Hale's Opera House last Friday afternoon.

Mr. Stuart, the Republican nominee for governor, is not an orator and makes no pretensions as such, but his brief talk was a most forcible and effective illustration of the power of earnest and impassioned speech upon an audience which at the beginning was in a most indifferent and unresponsive mood. But he had not gone far in his speech before his earnestness and candor had won the confidence of his hearers for behind the speech was evident the sincerity and the fairness of the speaker. He was so fair in statement, so absolutely truthful in every sentence, so broad in spirit and so overflowing in patriotism, that his hearers went away not only delighted with the sentiments expressed but convinced of the reasonableness of his argument and of his purpose, if elected, to keep strictly the promises of the platform on which he stood and those made by him from the rostrum.

The sentiments which perhaps received the heartiest applause were those which referred to his relation with the party leaders and his prospective course if chosen governor. He declared, evidently with much feeling ,that in accepting the nomination for governor he "incurred no obligation whatever to anyone and that if elected he would fill the office justly and wisely." There was a veritable whirlwind of applause when he declared, "Now, gentlemen, if elected, I will do all in my power to see that the laws of the state are enforced and if I find any crookedness or dishonesty I will openly denounce the dishonesty or crookedness of the parties who perpetrate such methods, so that the public can do with them as they see fit." Not less emphatic was his declaration as to the alleged wrongs in the furnishing of the state capitol: "Of these stories," he said, "I know nothing, but if elected governor I will make personal investigation and will tell the people fearlessly and frankly just what I find. Until then I will do nothing, but if there is anything wrong, the guilty party or parties will be found and if convicted shall be punished."

No man in that audience, we are sure, who heard these words and noted the deep earnestness of the speaker, doubted his sincerity or that he would keep his promise. Mr. Stuart's visit to Towanda was to all who heard and came in contact with him a revelation of character of singular charm and force. He is a man whose ability and worth grow upon acquaintance and his unaffected and genial manner make him friends wherever he goes. Even his opponents bear witness to his absolute integrity. His closing words are an index of the genuine character of the man and they show the unselfish nature of his work in this contest.

"There is just one thing I desire to say today and that is that as far as I am personally concerned it does not make a great deal of difference whether I am elected governor or not. I am not a candidate in this campaign to take care of any other fight or anything else in the future. What I say, and I say it emphatically here today, I do not want to be elected governor of Pennsylvania unless my election means a triumph for the principles of good government and I can serve the people according to my oath of office."

The other speakers discussed the issues of the campaign with fairness and a clearness that were convincing. There was no mud throwing or personal abuse of political opponents. The speakers were gentlemen who did not make the mistake of using blackguardism for argument. They appealed to the people for the support upon the reasonableness and justness of their cause and the sentiment which pervaded the meeting throughout was one of fairness on the part of the speakers and deep earnestness on the part of the audience. It was a good meeting and it will bear abundant fruit on the day when the people render their verdict at the ballot box.

Whatever you do next Tuesday, vote.

CANDIDATES FOR LEGISLATURE.

Very little has been said in this campaign about the election of representatives to the state legislature. That is because two most excellent, worthy and capable men have been agreed upon by all parties as candidates. They will be elected, of course, and we hazard nothing in predicting that they will prove worthy of the confidece reposed in them. They will represent their constituents faithfully and serve the best interests of the commonwealth.

But it is worth mentioning in passing that seldom in this state have two men been so signally honored by the people as Messrs. Moscrip and Stevens. To be chosen unanimously to so honorable a place is high honor indeed. Such choice imposes great responsibility for in a special and unusual sense they are the representatives of all the people.

Two memorable features of this campaign will be the Lilley-Kipp joint debate and the terrible fright of the corporations when candidate Kipp's letter of acceptance was launched.

Mial E. Lilley has made a good congressman. His record has not been successfully assailed. Abuse is not argument.

Your uncle Joe Cannon is a good judge of congressmen, to be sure.

WHY HE WAS NOMINATED.

George W. Kipp was nominated for congress because he is a rich man. If he had been a poor man the Democrats of this district would not have thought of naming him for the high office of congressman.

The Reporter-Journal does not cry out against a man because he is rich. If a man by reason of industry and ability honestly directed has succeeded in amassing a fortune it is to his credit. Mr. Kipp has made his wealth by honest means and we shall not attempt to disparage him because he has been successful.

We are discussing the why of his nomination. It is a fair question—why was he nominated? The instant the question is put the answer is ready, and everyone knows what it will be before it is given. He is rich.

That is it, sure. Because he is rich.

But because he is rich is not a good reason for sending him to congress. There are many thousands of American citizens who have been saying for years that the great trouble with our national legislature is that there are too many rich men in it. The United States Senate has been stigmatized many times as a "rich man's club." A large part of this kind of talk is mere demagoguery. A man is not necessarily a knave because he has wealth.

Mr. Kipp was nominated for congress because he is rich. He has plenty of money to spend toward securing his election, and he is spending it freely. If he is elected it will be because of his money. Has he other qualifications? If he has what are they? Has he had experience which fits him for the place? Is he better equipped for congressional duties than Mr. Lilley? If he is, in what way, and how, and why?

He is a Democrat and the nominee of the Democrats, and this congressional district is overwhelmingly Republican. At the congressional election in 1904 Mr. Lilley had a plurality over Kuhback, the Democratic nominee, of 6,872 votes. Does the fact that Mr. Kipp is a Democrat give him precedence in the old Wilmot district? We think not. We submit that it is not necessary to send a Democrat to congress from the old Wilmot district simply because he is rich.

His opponent, Mr. Lilley, is a Republican and has made a most excellent congressman. George W. Kipp is a Democrat and would never have been nominated if he had not been a rich man.

Which candidate will the Republicans of this overwhelmingly Republican district vote for?

CONDUCT OF THE CAMPAIGN.

In the campaign for congress which is closing we believe the people have noted the fact that on the part of the Republican candidate it has been a clean and honorable one. He has not abused his opponent. He has made a straight-forward, open, decent fight for election and has indulged in no mud-slinging or personal abuse. Honor to him for it. It will make him votes.

What of the Democratic campaign?

Mr. Kipp is a man of character, but some of the means employed by his campaign managers and newspapers to influence voters have been anything but creditable to him. His opponent has been lied about and villified to an extent that has disgusted fair-minded people and made them marvel that the Democratic candidate would countenance it or allow it to go on. Mr. Lilley has been stigmatized as a soldier-hater, a slanderer of old veterans, a man who hounded them into the grave. All the political crimes in the catalogue have bee nlaid at his door, and every political sin in the county or district for years past has been charged to him. It has been alleged that treachery on his part has sent men to the insane asylum. If one of Mr. Kipp's newspapers is to be believed, Mr. Lilley instead of being a candidate for a high and honorable office, should now be behind prison bars. The particular charge of enmity to the old soldier was carried to such an extent that one soldier—Captain Bryant of Towanda—whose name was given as one of the veterans who had been maltreated by Mr. Lilley—was forced to come out in a card to the public and brand the story as a lie. Another veteran who was alleged to have been shamefully treated by Mr. Lilley—Captain A. J. Wilt of Towanda—is now on the stump making telling speeches for him and urging soldiers to support him.

We do not believe that this kind of campaigning is in the long run advantageous to the candidate in whose behalf it is practiced. We do not believe that Mr. Kipp will profit by it in this case. Do the voters of the Fourteenth district approve of it? We are of the opinion they do not. If they do not, let them rebuke it at the polls on Tuesday next.

This is the year for Republicans to be Republicans.

BEWARE OF LAST CARDS.

In their effort to defeat Mr. Lilley the Kipp forces are stopping at nothing. The Democratic candidate has already spent a large sum of money and the thought of being defeated after all this expenditure of money, time and energy is exasperating. He is desperate and so are his helpers. It is about time to look out for their last cards, which are liable to come so late in the campaign that there will be no opportunity to deny them before election. This is a favorite trick in politics and the voters of this district have seen it attempted before. We warn the friends of Mr. Lilley to be on their guard and see to it that eleventh hour canards launched against him or any candidate on the ticket meet the fate they deserve.

WHO SHOULD KNOW?

In his letter of acceptance, Mr. Kipp, over his own signature, has pledged his support to the principles of the Democratic party, and, also, to support the policies of President Roosevelt. That is a pretty big straddle for a short-legged man and for his own welfare as well as for the people of this district we hope that he may never be put in the uncomfortable position of attempting it.

In this, as in other matters of political faith and practice, Mr. Kipp, evidently, is like Mr. Bryan, who in a recent speech said that the best way to support the President is to elect a Democratic House "for the reason that the Democrats have given the President's reform measures more loyal support than have the members of his own party. A Democratic House can send remedial measures to the senate and join issue with the Republicans if they refuse to adopt them."

But President Roosevelt in his letter to Congressman Watson asks for the return of Republican members of congress in order that his hands may be upheld in continuing remedial legislation required by his policies for dealing with corporate abuses.

Now comes Mr. Bryan with a statement that the best way to support the President is by having a Democratic House join issue with a Republican Senate and—accomplish nothing, since that must result in a deadlock between the chambers. Moreover, the President stands for certain policies of older date than his reform measures—Republican policies which Mr. Bryan, Mr. Kipp and a Democratic House are pledged to overthrow. How is the President to be best supported, by electing a House that will antagonize him on those policies in the hope of making enough political capital to defeat his party in 1908?

The best way to support the President is to elect representatives of the party to which he belongs, and whose election he has asked.

An Old Automobile.

Ezra Baxter of Troy, according to the Valley Record, has the first automobile ever used in Bradford county, and presented that paper with a picture of the "machine" which is over 100 years old. More properly speaking the automobile is an ox-cart, believed to be the only one of its kind in existence, and the picture was taken at the fair which was recently held at Troy. The cart is a two-wheel affair and is loaded with a dozen or more handsome young women. Attached to the cart are two ox teams driven by Mr. Baxter. The cart has passed down through three generations of the Baxter family and is in an excellent state of preservation.

Still More Telephones.

The Meshoppen & Auburn Telephone company have built a line up Tunkhannoock hill and installed instruments in the residences of Henry Kintner and Frank Brewer. It is calculated to extend the line to about a dozen residences in that section this Fall.

Remember Kaufman's forced sale opens Friday, Nov. 2.

THE DUTY OF EVERY CITIZEN.

As this is the last issue of this paper before election we desire to urge on all voters the one indisputable duty of the citizen—the duty of voting. Every citizen should vote, and vote in acordance with his honest convictions.

Go early to the polls on Tuesday, so that the interposition of business affairs need not involve the risk of forgetting to vote at all. Vote once, and take care that the vote shall express your honest convictions of what is right.

If every man discharges that duty sincerely and conscientiously it will be all right. The people deserve the kind of government they vote to have.

ROOSEVELT'S OPINION.

To change the leadership and organization of the House at this time means to bring confusion upon those who have been successfully engaged in the steady working out of a great and comprehensive scheme for the betterment of our social, industrial and civic conditions. Such a change would substitute a purposeless confusion, a violent and hurtful oscillation between the positions of the extreme radical and the extreme reactionary, for the present progress along the lines of a carefully thought-out policy.—Extract from President Roosevelt's letter to Congressman Watson, Aug. 18, 1906.

And Roosevelt ought to know. Know what? Know what he is talking about when he says he wants Republican congressmen re-elected.

The corporations are as afraid of candidate Kipp as the devil is of sin.

DEATH ROLL OF A WEEK

At the home of his sister, Mrs. V. V. Vargarson, in South Main street, Saturday, Oct. 27, occurred the death of John F. Coolbaugh, his age being 31 years, four months and 28 days. Beside his wife, the deceased is survived by one daughter, Josephine, not quite one year old, also his parents, residents of this place, a brother, F. M. Coolbaugh of Lestershire, and a sister, Mrs. V. V. Vargason, with whom he has made his home of late, and from where the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 30, at 2 o'clock, interment being in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. M. L. Cook.

Mrs. M. L. Cook of Meryall, died on Tuesday of this week, at the home of her brother, R. Wellington Thomas at Lewisburg, after having suffered a stroke of paralysis. She is survived by her husband, Rev. M. L. Cook, eight children, one brother and three sisters. Mrs. Cook was about 52 years of age, and was a woman of splendid Christian character, loved and esteemed by a very wide circle of acquaintances. For many years she has resided at Merryall, where her husband is pastor of the Presbyterian church. The remains will be brought to her late home today.

William J. Bolan.

William J. Bolan, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bolan of Towanda, died on Saturday morning at Wayland, N. Y., from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received the previous day. The remains were brought to his parents' home on Sunday and funeral services were held in SS. Peter and Paul's Church at 9 o'clock on Tuesday. Mr. Bolan was 32 years of age, and for a year, since leaving the United States military service, had been foreman in the factory of his brother-in-law, William Gunlock, at Wayland. Mr. Bolan served in the army seven years, four years in the marine corps and three years in the Sixth Coast Artillery. His record as a soldier was a splendid one, and he saw considerable service in the Philippines. He was clerk of his battery.

All members of the Spanish-American veterans and Philippine soldiers are invited to attend the funeral.

More Telephones.

Two new telephone lines are being installed from the central office of LeRaysville, running to Brushville; H. G. Newell and S. W. Canfield are doing the work. The addition is on the independent system.

You will never regret the day you visit Kaufman's forced sale. Look for the big blue front.

Relay Stations for New Road.

George A. Scott, representing the American Concrete company, has closed a contract with the Powers Mansfield Construction company to erect two concrete buildings between Waverly and Wellsburg. The buildings will be used as relay power stations for the Corning, Elmira & Waverly Street Railway company and the dimensions will be 44x46 feet and 20 feet high. Power for the new road will be furnished from Elmira but as the distance between the two places is so great the electric fluid loses much of its force. Thus these relay stations in which to store the energy. The work of the new road continues—but G. Tracy Rogers has not yet secured a connection with the village of Waverly.—Free Press.

Not Bad Signs.

Straws show which way the prosperity wind is blowing in these parts. In a walk around the borough there are noted among the improvements going on in different places that A. H. Wiggins is painting and renovating the Third ward market, and expects to open the place about the first of the month. He has rented the market from Mrs. E. D. Rundell, and will carry a full line of goods in his line. F. H. Hagerman is making extensive repairs to his Second street house, and is tearing down the old Lyman office building. V. V. Vargeson is doing the work.

Towanda Odd Fellows Abroad.

Members of the local lodoge of Odd Fellows to the number of a score or more drove to Rome on Wednesday, where they attended the installation ceremonies of Rome Lodge, No. 480. Following the installation of officers the Towanda brethren were given a fine banquet by the Rome Rebekahs, the feast coming as a pleasant surprise. An enjoyable evening was passed, the loads returning at a late hour.

Vote as President Roosevelt has asked you to vote—for the Republican candidate for congress.

Almost "too numerous to mention" are the corporations with which president- director- stockholder- candidate Kipp is connected. Looks like he'll be after raising corporation taxes, don't it?

It is quite evident that this campaign will pass into history without candidate Kipp having answered the Reporter-Journal's questions. Well, we put them fairly to him and the natural inference is that he was afraid to answer.

This is not the time to quit.—Senator Knox.

VERDICT OF FELLOW MEMBERS.

We presented last week the verdict of fellow members of congress on the record of Hon. Mial E. Lilley in that body. We reprint this week the greater portion of that testimony. The witnesses are Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, speaker of the House; Hon. Sereno E. Payne of New York, chairman of the Ways and Means committee; Hon. Chas. B. Landis of Indiana, and Hon. James E. Watson of Indiana.

Their testimony as to the worth of Mr. Lilley as a representative, as to his faithfulness in attendance on sessions, as to his loyalty to President Roosevelt, as to his personal ability and as to his standing and influence as a first-term member is highly significant and will carry weight. They know whereof they speak. They are men of truth, of experience, and of trained judgment, and what they say is pertinent to the matter in hand. Their testimony concerning Mr. Lilley's congressional record is far more worthy of belief and dependance than the deliverances of a band of conspirators and enemies of the Republican candidate who are in this fight for personal ends and are without scruple as to what they do or say.

This is not the time to quit.—Senator Knox.

THE SUSQUEHANNA.

The McCall Ferry Power company, which virtually proposes to turn the Susquehanna river to its own uses, from Sunbury South, has been halted for the time by Attorney General Carson who denies the power and privileges which the company claims.

The Philadelphia Press of Monday says if the company is permitted to carry out its project of building an 80-foot dam 4,000 feet across the river, it would destroy the historic stream as a public highway, and prevent the shad from passing up and down. There are other public advantages which the company would obliterate.

As a general proposition, however, the conversion of the Susquehanna, or any part of it, to private uses would be an outrage not to be thought of or tolerated for a moment. Attorney General Carson has asked the court to prevent this high-handed piece of vandalism.

We have cleaned house, why should we move out?—Senator Knox.

WHAT ROOSEVELT THINKS.

If there were only partisan issues involved in this contest, I should hesitate to say anything publicly in reference thereto. But I do not feel that such is the case. On the contrary, I feel that all good citizens who have the welfare of America at heart should appreciate the immense amount that has been accomplished by the present congress organized as it is, and the urgent need of keeping this organization in power.—Extract from President Roosevelt's letter to Congressman Watson, Aug. 18, 1906.

We have cleaned house, why should we move out?—Senator Knox.

THE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS.

A political campaign in this county of more than usual excitement and uncertainty, is nearly at an end. On Tuesday next the electors of this Congressional District will decide by their ballots who shall represent them in the next congress, which, unless all indications are misleading, will be hardly less epoch-making in its legislation than the present. It would be foolish, at this time, to indulge in any predictions as to the result. And yet in the minds of those we believe the most competent to judge, and who have carefully studied the situation, there is hardly any doubt of the success of the Republican candidate. The one factor in the contest which renders the result at all uncertain is the course of some of those who have heretofore acted with the regular organization, and who now call themselves Lincoln Republicans.

We are aware that some of the Lincoln Republicans of this district are inclined to allow local differences and personal grievances with Mr. Lilley to carry them so far as to vote for his Democratic opponent, but that there are many of them we doubt. We are loath, however to believe that they will go so far in their present resentment as to imperil the success of their party for the mere gratification of personal ends. We are confident that if they appreciate the gravity of the issue at stake that they will not permit themselves to be swerved by any influence intended to defeat one of the most efficient members of the National House and in whose canvas for re-election only Republican National policies and principles are involved. To these Republicans who feel inclined to take this course these lines are addressed.

First, such action would be properly regarded as a lack of confidence in the President. Second, it would interfere with all the plans that he has for additional remedial legislation. Third, it would replace a tried and capable representative who is asquainted with the needs of the district, with an inexperienced one who has never had any acquaintance with public men or public affairs. Fourth, it would replace a Republican whose loyalty to the President is undoubted, by a Democrat who however much he might feel inclined personally to support the President in his reform measures, would be obliged by party practice and pressure to vote with his party.

As the present political campaign has progressed, it has become more and more evident that the leaders of the Democratic party are bending all their energies to gain control of congress. That end has been made paramount to everything else and to its attainment everything will be sacrificed. The canvass has been unusually energetic on their part and already they are loudly proclaiming that success is assured.

A control of the Lower House of congress by the Democratic party would be a calamity, whose seriousness no man can measure. The prosperity of the country now at full tide would be checked and the disastrous experiences of Democratic rule under Cleveland would be repeated. The repetition of this unfortunate period can come only through Republican default. A division of its vote at the polls next Tuesday would bring about this result.

No matter what the criticism upon the members of the present House of Representatives, every one must admit that it has been phenomenal in its attention to business, in the wise constructiveness of its acts, in its sagacity in meeting conditions, and in its helpfulness to the prosperity of the country. Every man in the dominate party is entitled to his share for the credit of this and is entitled to the appreciation and recognition of re-election. It is only good public policy, only shrewd, practical common sense to retain in place those who have done well and give them further opportunities to do better. On the contrary, it would be the height of unwisdom to turn down an efficient and tried public servant and entrust the government and policies of the country at this time to a new and untried man. No man can tell what he would do. We only know that his party associates have been opposed to whatever has seemed necessary in constructive and regulative legislation, and consequently, if elected, he will do what he can to undo what his predecessors have done.

For the Republicans of this district to turn out their present member of congress and replace him by his inexperienced Democratic antagonist, will be to invite disaster and a repetition of the sorrowful experiences which attended the congressional revolution of 1892. It will be to express disapproval of all that has been done in the past ten years to make the country what it is, and a desire to return to the calamitous conditions from which we were rescued by the return of the people to sanity in 1896.

There must be no risks of a Democratic majority in the House of Representatives. There must be no chances taken of the present administration losing its control upon the popular branch of this government and a reversal of all the currents which now lead on to even greater prosperity than we are at present enjoying.

The one vital, overshadowing question then for the Republicans of this district to decide is : Am I going to help to send a Democrat to congress by voting for George W. Kipp, or am I going to help President Roosevelt by voting for the present representative, Mial E. Lilley? The President has asked that he be given a Republican congress and it is up to the Republican voters to do it. Remember, President Roosevelt has asked Republicans to put none but Republicans on guard.

Let Democrats fight Congressman Lilley but let them have no assistance from Republicans. Every Republican in the district—whether regular, Lincoln or what not—should cast his vote for Congressman Lilley as a faithful and able advocate of those principles of the Republican party which have controlled President Roosevelt's administration.

CONGRESSMAN WATSON ON CONGRESSMAN LILLEY.

Congressman James E. Watson of Indiana, is the man to whom President Roosevelt in August last wrote the well known letter which put before the public so clearly the reasons why a Republican congress should be returned next month. Mr. Watson knows whereof he speaks when he delivers himself concerning the individual membership of the present House. Of Congressman Lilley he says:

"I was in Philadelphia not long ago making a speech and was informed there that Mr. Lilley's enemies were circulating the report in his district that he was not friendly to the President, that he opposed certain legislation desired by Mr. Roosevelt, and that he was generally inimical to the President's interests. Having had actual charge of the Republican organization in the last House, and knowing accurately how every Republican stood on every one of the great measures passed by that body, I feel not only that I am in a position to state facts, but that I shall be doing Mr. Lilley a great injustice if I do not deny each and every one of these rumors. I can truthfully and cheerfully state that your representative was in full accord with the policies of the President on all of the great measures proposed and advocated by him."

HE DARE NOT ANSWER.

Why don't candidate George W. Kipp answer the Reporter-Journal's question as to which way he would vote for Speaker of the House—a Democrat or a Republican? Because he dare not. A fine figure he cuts in this matter. In his letter of acceptance he insinuates that he is a better Republican than Mr. Lilley. He is posing as a Republican and thereby hopes to get Republican votes.

To put him to proof of his Republicanism the Reporter-Journal asked him which he would vote for for Speaker of the House—a Democrat or a Republican—in case he should be elected. Not a word has he answered. He is afraid to answer. If he should say he would vote for a Democrat (which he surely would) it would cost him a lot of Democratic votes. And so, through fear, he remains silent. But his silence is not silent, for "actions speak louder than words." He is a Democrat from the crown of his head to the sole of his foot, and his refusal to answer but makes it plainer. If elected to congress he will vote with the Democrats and be a Democrat still, and all his professions of love for Roosevelt will be forgotten. When it came to an issue in congress between the President and his Democratic enemies who doubts where George Kipp would be found? The trick won't work, Mr. Kipp. It is too thin. You have trained with the Democrats too long. The people know you for what you are and always will be—a Democrat, and they don't believe you when you tell how you love Roosevelt.

LANDIS ON LILLEY.

Congressman Charles B. Landis of Indiana, is chairman of the committee on printing in the fifty-ninth congress. He knows Congressman Lilley well and has taken his measure on the floor of the House. He expresses himself as follows about Mr. Lilley's record in his first session:

"I am told that the candidate who is opposing the reelection of Hon. Mial E. Lilley is circulating a story that he was not in harmony with President Roosevelt and the measures he advocated. I cannot understand how a man would have the audacity to make a charge of this kind. Every member of the House who knows Mr. Lilley knows that the president had no warmer supporter for the reform legislative measures he advocated than Mr. Lilley. Indeed, he was looked upon in the House as one of the special champions of the president. I would add in this connection that no member on his first term took higher rank than Mr. Lilley and if he is given the chance by continuous service, he will have a distinguished career in congress."

CHAIRMAN OF WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE ON LILLEY.

There is no more important committee in congress than the Ways and Means. Its chairman in the present congress is Hon. Sereno E. Payne of New York. He knows something of Congressman Lilley's record. Of it he says:

"I have learned that it is being alleged against Hon. M. E. Lilley that he was not in harmony with President Roosevelt during the last session of congress. I am surprised that any such statement should be made concerning Mr. Lilley, as I know he is a warm supporter of the President and of the policies which he advocated in the last congress. The President has already put on record his earnest desire that such Republicans as Mr. Lilley should be returned to the next congress. Mr. Lilley took a fine position considering the length of his service in congress, and it would be a great mistake for the Republicans of your district if he is not elected by a larger majority than before."

"I have personal knowledge of the fact that the soldiers have no better friend in congress than he (Lilley) is."—Captain James Bryant of Towanda.

RETROSPECTIVE.

A few weeks ago candidate George W. Kipp, having been named for congress by the Democrats, issued his now celebrated letter of acceptance. In it he endeavored to show that he would make a better representative of the Fourteenth district in congress than his opponent, the Hon. Mial E. Lilley. One reason advanced was that Congressman Lilley had voted against the Philippine tobacco bill, a bill that gradually lowered the tariff on tobacco coming to the United States from the Philippine islands and at the end of three years took it off altogether. This argument was not a fortunate one for Mr. Kipp and his orators and newspapers soon abandoned it. The challenge to the Republican candidate to stand and defend himself for having refused to vote for free trade on tobacco raised by the powerful Tobacco Trust on a tropical island in the Pacific, where laborers are half clothed and can be hired for a few cents a day, was promptly accepted, and the true inwardness and intent of the bill were shown up. It did not take long to dispose of that reason why Mr. Lilley should not be elected, and there is little doubt that if Mr. Kipp were now to issue another letter he would instruct the person who wrote it for him to cut out the argument on "our tariff relations with the Philippines."

Then there was the "support of Roosevelt" argument. This occupied a prominent place in the letter of acceptance. We believe that in the later editions of the letter the part dealing with this matter was honored by being printed in capitals and italics. Somewhat adriotly the Democratic candidate put forth the claim that he was as good a Roosevelt man as was Mr. Lilley. He agreed with the President as to placing the insurance companies under the supervision of the government, Pennsylvania Democrats had already supported Roosevelt, Roosevelt at heart "embodied the ideals of a true Democrat," etc., and the whole was overlaid with a sweet and somewhat alluring pledge of support of the President in all reform measures "of the character of which Mr. Roosevelt has been advocating in the past."

This particular bait to catch Republican votes at first looked "real nice." It was artistically offered, and a due sense of proportion seemed to have been observed in arranging the parts which made up the whole. The only trouble was—would Republicans take it, would they swallow and believe?

The "support of Roosevelt" plea was destined to rough treatment. Mr. Kipp had hardly launched it when the Reporter-Journal asked him which, in his feverish anxiety to show his love for the President, he would vote for for speaker of the house—a Republican or a Democrat, and Mr. Lilley unsympathetically challenged him to take the stump with him and talk it over before the people. Neither the Reporter-Journal or Mr. Lilley has received any reply. The Hon. Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House; the Hon. Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the Ways and Means committee; Hon. Charles B. Landis, chairman of the committee on printing, and Hon. James E. Watson, member of congress from Indiana, all shed light on the situation by writing personal letters tostifying that Mr. Lilley was one of the most loyal supporters the President had on the floor of the House. And last, but not least, Mr. Lilley's record in the House on all the great bills in which the President was particularly interested was brought to light and shown to be right. The "support of Roosevelt" argument was shattered. If Mr. Kipp goes to congress it will not be because he has made people believe he would be a more loyal supporter of the President than his opponent would be.

Another card that Mr. Kipp held when he showed his hand in the letter of acceptance appears to have been lost in the shuffle of the past three or four weeks—the anti-corporation plea. It was timely enough and not badly presented by the person who wrote the letter, but it didn't fit Mr. Kipp. The candidate himself was the trouble this time. Mr. Kipp is a good man all right, but if you dress him up in anti-corporation clothes he is the most outlandish looking figure outside of opera bouffe. He is president of seven different corporations and director and stockholder in several more, and the person who poses him before the public as a congressional candidate who will "curb rapacious corporations" has either a very keen sense of the ridiculous or none at all. The anti-corporation idea was soon shelved by the Kipp managers and we don't hear much of it now.

What remains of the letter of acceptance? The cry of bossism, the machine, Boss Penrose, etc., etc. Simply this and nothing more. These are the only arguments the Kipp managers haven't abandoned. Some of the Kipp newspapers have attacked Mr. Lilley personally, and are giving their readers regular and voluminous doses of untruth and scurrility. They stop at nothing which they believe will further their ends, and stoop to anything which they think may injure the Republican candidate. Do the voters of the district endorse this kind of a campaign? Mr. Kipp is a man not given to villification, but will he deny that some of the newspapers containing this scurrilous attack are in his pay, or that he has ordered thousands of extra copies of them for distribution among the voters?

"He (Lilley) gave constant attention to his legislative duties both upon committee and in the House. He was one of the most efficient members in upholding the policies of the Republican party."—Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House.

WHAT DOES ROOSEVELT REALLY DESIRE?

The Athens News of Thursday last said:

"What Does Roosevelt Really Desire?" Simply this: That he be supported at the next session of congress along the line of saving the country from the 'System,' and it is immaterial from a partisan standpoint whether that support comes from Republicans or Democrats."

Roosevelt don't say so. The News having asked the question, "What Does Roosevelt Really Desire?" it is fair play to let Roosevelt answer it. He has answered it and straight to the point. He says:

"If there were only partisan issues involved in this contest, I should hesitate to say anything publicly in reference thereto. But I do not feel that such is the case. On the contrary, I feel that all good citizens who have the welfare of America at heart should appreciate the immense amount that has been accomplished by the present congress organized as it is, and the urgent need of keeping this organization in power."—Extract from President Roosevelt's letter to Congressman Watson, Aug. 18, 1906.

In another paragraph which is also taken from the same letter to Congressman Watson, Roosevelt says:

"To change the leadership and organization of the House at this time means to bring confusion upon those who have been successfully engaged in the steady working out of a great and comprehensive scheme for the betterment of our social, industrial and civic conditions. Such a change would substitute a purposeless confusion, a violent and hurtful oscillation between the positions of the extreme radical and the extreme reactionary, for the present orderly progress along the lines of a carefully thought-out policy."

Now when the Athens News man wants to know what Roosevelt really desires, let him read the above paragraphs and he will find out.

We submit to the voters of the Fourteenth congressional district that Roosevelt knows what he desires better than anyone else. Better even than the Athens News man does.

KIPP'S KORPORATIONS.

George W. Kipp, the Democratic candidate for congress, says in his letter of acceptance, that the taxes on corporations should be raised. His letter of acceptance was a convenient place in which to lombaste the corporations. The corporations are in ill repute now and jumping on them is a popular sport. But sincerity is a good thing, and how sincere is Mr. Kipp when he talks in this strain?

The Troy Gazette-Register has ben at some trouble to find out how many corporations Mr. Kipp is interested in and as a result of its investigation gives this list. He is president of the Towanda Water works; president Water works at Bath, N. Y.; president Schenectady Annex Improvement company, (city lots); stockholder Towanda Knitting Mill; president First national bank, Towanda; president Chatham & Wallaceburg Street Railway company, Ontario, Can.; president Punxsutawney Street Railway company, Jefferson City; stockholder and director in Pennsylvania & Maryland Street Railway company; stockholder Somerset County Street Railway company; president Water works, Albion, N. Y.

Quite a corporation man is Mr. Kipp. The list is a long one, sure. He is without doubt more extensively connected with corporations than any man in this immediate vicinity. He undoubtedly has many thousands of dollars invested in them.

Mr. Kipp is human and this anti-corporation talk coming from him is twaddle. Imagine George W. Kipp in congress fighting to raise his own taxes. Imagine him battling with the corporation octopus. President of seven corporations and stockholder and director in several others, what would the corporations have to fear from him? Mr. Kipp's assault on the corporations is one of the jokes of the campaign.

SPEAKER CANNON ON LILLEY.

One of the big men of this country at the present time is Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, Speaker of the fifty-ninth congress of the United States. It will be admitted, we are sure, that "Uncle Joe," as he is familiarly called, knows a whole lot about congressmen. He is an expert on congressmen and has had ample opportunity to become such. There is one qualification the speaker must have in order to succeed in administration of the office—he must know the House. Speaker Cannon has had Congressman Lilley constantly under his eye during sessions since the national legislature convened in December, 1905. He says of him:

"He gave continued attention to his legislative duties both upon committee and in the House. He was one of the most efficient members in upholding the policies of the Republican party, commanding the respect and confidence of his colleagues and of the administration. Judging from his record during the last session, with a continuance of service I am satisfied that he will prove one of the most valuable members of the House. He deserves the confidence and support of his constituents, and I hope and believe he will receive the same."

The Kipp newspapers and orators are doing their utmost to disparage Mr. Lilley's record in congress. If they have any testimony against his record that will compare in strength and prestige with the above voucher for it let them trot it out.

"No member on his first term took higher rank than Mr. Lilley."—Congressman Landis of Indiana.

HENRY HOUCK.

It will be passing strange if one candidate for a state office does not receive on Tuesday next a magnificent vote, not because of partisan enthusiasm but because of the good he has done in bettering the citizenship of our commonwealth through the avenues of our public schools. For a period covering nearly half a century Henry Houck has gone about the state scattering sunshine and giving encouragement to the teachers and cheering them in their noble work. His kindly influence has been felt in every part of Pennsylvania and his reputation as an educator who has devoted his life to the cause of education is known in many states outside of Pennsylvania. He is the most beloved schoolman in all our state and if in the tumult of this campaign the friends of education do not forget the man who outside of all political partisanship has been one of our state's greatest benefactors, they will show in some measure their appreciation of the good he has done by honoring him in his declining years with the office which he seeks, that of secretary of internal affairs.

Roosevelt knows what he wants and has spoken. He wants Republicans for congressmen, and not Democrats.

THE DEMOCRATIC BRAG.

The Democrats are bragging that they will gain a dozen congressmen in Pennsylvania at this election. Republicans of Bradford county, do your part to make this brag fail. Vote for Mial E. Lilley and by doing so keep in his seat a loyal and able supporter of President Roosevelt.

VOTE.

It is patriotic to vote and unpatriotic not to. Vote once and vote early. The man who don't vote is one who don't take pride in his country or her institutions. Get out the vote. Get in your own vote. Get out your neighbor and make him get in his vote. Vote.

OCTOBER MEETING OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Held Saturday, Was Marked By Features of Interest.

Nearly every chair in the Bradford County Historical society was occupied at Saturday afternoon's regular monthly meeting of the society, which was one of the most interesting held in several months. The special feature was the reading of a paper by Hon. George Moscrip, upon "The Connecticut Claim."

The meeting opened at 2 o'clock with President A. T. Lilley in the chair; during the business session the newly appointed committees were announced as follows: Finance—Dr. E. D. Payne, J. A. Biles, and E. J. Ayres; library and museum—Hon. A. C. Fanning, D. J. Sweet, and Mrs. Mildred R. Smith; publication—C. F. Heverly, R. A. Mercur, and J. C. Ingham; membership—J. A. Wilt, Hon. George Moscrip, and Mrs. U. M. Fell; music and entertainment—Mrs. Elsie Means, Miss Ida K. Layton, and Mrs. R. A. Mercur.

Demand for the Annual.

It was expected that at Saturday's meeting distribution would be made of the annual which the society is publishing, but C. F. Heverly, who is doing the work, announced that a few days' delay would be necessary. A discussion of the value of the annual brought out the fact that there has been a large demand for the publication outside of members of the society, and as only a limited number of copies are being issued it was decided upon motion to make a charge of 50 cents each for the books, and to make a free distribution only to those members of the society who are fully paid up as to dues and assessments. The annuals are to be left with the financial secretary, Miss Ida Layton, at the court house, who will be glad to supply all those who call.

The idea was advanced by C. F. Heverly, and ably supported by J. A. Wilt and others that a collection should be made of all the publications having reference to Bradford county history in any way, as well as a collection of the writings that have been published by Bradford county authors. In a discussion on natural history, President Lilley asked for information in regard to the presence of black rats in the county. This species of rodent was largely driven out by the advent of the common wharf rat, now so numerous but it was stated that in lower Bradford, near the Sullivan county line the black rat is found, and is considered so much of a rarity that he is not disturbed in his haunts.

It was decided that the subject for the next meeting shall be the history of Standing Stone.

An Old Document.

An interesting feature was the presentation to the society by George E. Searing, of a very old, but almost perfectly preserved fire insurance policy, drawn up in the year 1797. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Searing.

The able and interesting paper read by Mr. Moscrip was closely followed, and brought up several instructive remarks and comments from the members present. The writer traced the origin of Pennsylvania family names from Connecticut.

AN APPRECIATION.

A. Clay Rockwell Held in High Esteem by His Neighbors.

The Manistique Pioneer-Tribune of Oct. 19, contained a sketch of a man prominent in the affairs of that town and of Schoolcraft county for many years. Judge Abner Clay Rockwell. His friends in this, his native county, will read with pleasure of the high esteem in which he was held:

The deceased was born in Monroeton, Pa., about 62 years ago, and had been a resident of this (Schoolcraft) county for nearly a quarter of a century. He was in the employ of the Chicago Lumbering company for a number of years, and lost his left arm by an accident in one of the mills. For some years he was an inspector on the construction of the Soo line railroad, and later conducted a news store in Manistique.

He was popular and had the respect, confidence and esteem of his neighbors, for at various times he was elected to positions of trust in Hiawatha township, being supervisor, clerk and member of the school board. In November, 1903, he was appointed by Governor Bliss to fill the unexpired term of Probate Judge VanTassel. He was nominated and elected for a full term of four years in November, 1904. In addition to his duties as judge he was County Treasurer Jewell's deputy. He was a member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, filled the chairs, and until increasing age made it impossible for him to attend regularly, was an important factor in its affairs.

Mr. Rockwell was a man who possessed sterling traits of character. He was moral, upright, honest and always honorable in his public and private life. Having suffered much through life his heart was especially tender, and tears of sincere sympathy flowed freely when he saw dark clouds of misfortune hovering over his fellow men, and he was ever ready to do his share in banishing suffering and want whenever it came to his notice.

Lieutenant Hawes Improving.

Lieutenant W. H. Hawes, of the United States army, who has been granted a furlough on account of illness, is enjoying a complete rest at the Hawes home in York avenue. He is able to take short walks almost daily, and expects to remain at his home here for about six months.

HON. MIAL E. LILLEY, OF TOWANDA.
Republican Candidate for Congress.

MRS. PATTERSON PLACES CLOCK IN LIBRARY.

Thoughtful Memorial Given by Appreciative Book Lover.

To the many patrons of the Towanda Public library, the improvements and general going over of the interior which has just been finished, is a source of satisfaction, and added convenience. Visitors to the library these days find things in a condition of orderliness and system, which is perhaps not excelled by any institution in the state. For this pleasing condition of affairs, much credit is due the librarian, Miss Helen Rockwell, who has recently returned from the state convention with renewed enthusiasm in her work, and some new ideas upon the subject. The circulation of the library at the present time is about 50 books per day, and this means every day, for the Towanda library, unlike those of most of the near-by towns, is open every day in the week except Sundays and holidays.

But the object which is just now attracting the most attention at the library is not a book at all; it is the handsome new clock placed upon the North wall of the main reading room, and which is the gift of Mrs. Theresa Homet Patterson. The clock is from the largest factory of this class of time pieces in the world, being a Seth Thomas clock. It is placed in the library as a memorial of Irvine Homet, brother of the donor, and one of the best known of this old family. Upon the big brass weight of the pendulum is an inscription bearing the name and the date, the engraving being done in old English by Ed. Mouillesseaux, the South Main street jeweler. The clock adds a much needed improvement to the furnishing of the pretty library, and Mrs. Patterson will receive the sincere thanks and appreciation of the community, which she is so soon to leave, for California, where she will pass the Winter.

Aboard the Charleston.

On Oct. 17 the first anniversary of the commissioning of the United States Cruiser Charleston, was celebrated at the Mare Island Navy Yard, Vallejo, Cal. The record of the Charleston is a splendid one, and is of particular interest to Bradford county people from the fact that the chief surgeon is Dr. Manley Gates, a native of Springfield, and the assistant surgeon is Dr. Edward Reed, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of Wysox. The recent trip around South America of the Charleston is regarded as in many respects as remarkable as that of the battleship Oregon in the Spanish war.

Pleasant Reception.

A recent event of a very happy character in Albany township, was the reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Jay Allen at the home of A. A. Allen on their return from their wedding journey. There was a large attendance of friends. An extended notice of the reception was sent to this paper at that time, but an unusual press of matter necessitated its omission together with a number of other communications.

In Wake of Storm.

Two breakers were blown down, hundreds of homes damaged, dozens persons injured and scores of trees and telephone poles uprooted and blown down in the storm which swept through the Lackawanna Valley Saturday night. The damage will be close to $500,000.

Scarlet Fever.

Marguerite and Mary, the little daughters of William H. Kane of 11 Locust avenue, are ill with a light form of scarlet fever. Dr. D. Leonard Pratt has ordered the house quarantined. William Kane, the father, is staying at the Ward House.

TOWANDA TRIMS SAYRE RELIANCE TEAM.

High School Boys Too Much for Athletic Club Players of Sayre.

The crowd that went over to the old ball ground in East Towanda to see the football game between the Towanda High school and the Reliance team of Sayre, was not so large as that which turned out for the Athens game two weeks ago, but those who went saw a good contest, with Towanda the victor by a comfortable margin. The score at the end of the last half was 15 to 0, in Towanda's favor.

Referee Hulett Turner started the game at a few minutes after half past three, Towanda getting the kick off; when Sayre had had the ball for several downs, they could make no gain and were forced to a quarter-back kick and by a bad fumble on the part of the home team, the visitors got the ball again with a big gain. Towanda secured the ball, however, on her 20 yard line, and kicked out of danger. The ball then went back and forth until Towanda had possession of it and by several gains, made consecutively by Ayres, Vought and Strong, a touch down was won, Ayres failing to kick the goal which was at a bad angle.

After the kick-off, which followed the touchdown, it took only about five minutes of play before Ayres had broken through the line with a clear field for a touch down, from which he was able to kick the goal. After Sayre had kicked off to Strong, the young Towandian was nearly put out of business by the resulting tackle, but after a few moments' rest, pluckily went back into the game. Long gains by Ayres through the line and by Strong and Vought round the ends and by Low, who made one clean gain of 20 yards around a well protected left end, brought the ball near enough Sayre's goal for Fullback Ayres to try for a field goal, which he made in good shape.

The second half was not so well played by either team as was the first; Towanda had the best of the argument from every point of view. Holmes was put in the game taking the place of Right Tackle Sammons.

On election day, Tuesday, Nov. 6, Sayre will go to Athens to play a second game there with the Athens High school.

The line-up follows:

Towanda	H. S.	Sayre Reliance.
Ayers	Fullback	Granger
Strong	Left Half	Keyes
Vought	Right Half	Gorman
Dickerson, Quarterback, Connely, Capt
Lowe	Right End	Carpenter
Sammons	Right Tackle	Smith
R. Smith	Right Guard	Holt
Hula	Left Guard	Morrison
Cox	Center	Stayman

NEW COUNTY TAIK.

Luzerne Residents Are Still Hopeful That It May Be Formed.

The Hazleton Standard says that those who were hopeful that a new county would be created with Hazleton as its county seat will be surprised to learn that the chances for having a new county formed at the next session of the legislature are very bright.

According to the Standard the enthusiasm for a new county has largely died out among the residents of the lower end, but the corporations which were formerly opposed to the government, are now favorable to it. The statement is made that the corporations lon gago discovered that it is hard and costly to watch the affairs of acounty so large as Luzerne now is and they are desirous of having the county divided so that its affairs may be more closely watched.

Friday, Nov. 2, at 9 a. m. the doors of M. Kaufman's store will be thrown open for his forced sale. Don't stay away, but come.

SMITHFIELD TOWNSHIP FARMER INSTANTLY KILLED.

Struck By Lehigh Valley Train No. 4 at Morley's Crossing.

Lock Thompson, a well to do farmer of Laurel Hill, Smithfield township, met instant and cruel death Friday afternoon at the Morley's Mill crossing of the Lehigh Valley, a short distance below Athens. Train No. 4 struck the wagon in which Mr. Thompson was riding, killing both driver and horses and smashing the vehicle into kindling wood.

Mr. Thompson had been to the cider mill in Athens and was on his way home with several barrels of cider in a heavy, iron-wheeled farm wagon. He was a man past 70 years of age, and it is probable he did not hear the train, for he drove directly in front of it. The back of his head was crushed and nearly every bone in his body was broken by the impact. He was thrown high in the air and alighted upon the locomotive, his head being wedged between the running board and the boiler.

The remains were taken to Milan, where they were prepared for burial and sent to his home in Smithfield.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

Such Was the Result of the Furey Murder Trial at Honesdale.

Michael Clune and Charles McVey, of Wayne county who were on trial in the Honesdale court all last week, charged with the murder of Patrick Furey of Lake Como, were Saturday morning declared not guilty. Furey was found dead on the highway near his home, and the indications were that he had been brutally murdered. Clune and McVey, who had been in his company, were arrested a few days later, charged with the crime.

The trial was in progress all last week. Friday the closing pleas of the attorneys were heard. In their closing arguments, counsel for the defendants contended that Furey was killed by being kicked by his horse, and they asked for an acquittal. The jury went out late that afternoon and next morning rendered a verdict of not guilty.

FRED BECKWITH RELEASED.

Young Man From Warren May Go to Danville.

After spending some hours in the county jail, Fred Beckwith of Warren, the young man who drew attention to himself early in the week by his unusual actions, and who was said by attorneys and others to be insane, was released from jail Thursday afternoon by Justice Meredith. Vernon G. Beckwith, a brother of the unfortunate Fred, came to the latter's rescue, and has gone on a bail bond for him.

In releasing him, Justice Meredith said that the young man should without doubt be placed in confinement before he did any serious damage as his insanity might take a violent turn at any time. Relatives state that they have begun arrangements to have Fred placed in Danville.

Abandoned An Eel Weir.

George Gaylord of Meshoppen, had a narrow escape from drowning on Saturday evening. In company with two other men they visited their eel weir in the river at that place. The men accompanying Mr. Gaylord had occasion to leave the weir, expecting to return in a short time. For some reason they forgot the lonely occupant, who, left without a boat, began to realize that he was in an undesirable position, owing to the rapid rising water. He reached the top of the weir and yelled lustily for help. He finally succeeded in making himself heard and about 1 o'clock was rescued from his perilous position by Charles White, who went to his assistance in a boat, the water at that time being almost to the top of the weir.

Barrett—Gilfoyle.

At the Church of SS. Peter and Paul on Thursday afternoon was solemnized the wedding of Anthony S. Barrett and Kathryne Gilfoyle, both of this place, a large gathering of friends witnessing the ceremony. Rev. Father Boland officiated in his usual impressive manner, and the attendants were M. J. Crotty, of Towanda and Miss Nellie Gilfoyle of Philadelphia, a sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett left on Lehigh Valley train 127 for a short wedding journey, after which they will reside in Towanda, where the young husband has a responsible position with the firm of J. O. Frost's Sons.

GROOMING COUNTS
But it cannot make a Fair Skin or a Glossy Coat.

Women with good complexions cannot be homely. Creams, lotions, washes and powders cannot make a fair skin. Every horseman knows that the satin coat of his thoroughbred comes from the animal's "all-right" condition. Let the horse get "off his feed" and his coat turns dull. Currying, brushing and rubbing will give him a clean coat, but cannot produce the coveted smoothness and gloss of the horse's skin, which is his complexion. The ladies will see the point.

Lane's Family Medicine

Is the best preparation for ladies who desire a gentle laxative medicine that will give the body perfect cleanliness internally and the wholesomeness that produces such skins as painters love to copy.

BIG BLACK BEAR BAGGED IN BURLINGTON SATURDAY.

Bruin Was Rounded Up After a Chase Lasting Three Days.

For three days last week almost every man and boy in Burlington borough and township who could muster a gun enjoyed a bear hunt. On Saturday afternoon, after a three days' chase bruin was shot and killed by George Holcombe of Burlington, in the door yard at the home of Wilbur Kendall, about a mile East of Burlington borough. The bear was a fine specimen of the black variety and weighed nearly 200 pounds.

The bear was first seen on Thursday by a hunter and the news of his presence quickly brought out a party of good proportions who followed him that day and the next and a part of Friday night. On Friday night Principal Phillips of the Luthers Mills school was driving, when the bear appeared in the road in front of his horse near the Fred Leonard farm, scarcely a half mile from Luthers Mills village. He was next sighted Saturday afternoon by Robert Hill, a young man who was armed only with a single barreled shot gun.

No one knows from where his bearship came, but it is quite probable he wandered off the Barclay mountain, across Franklin township and into Burlington, where it has been many years since wild game of this character has been seen.

Drank Carbolic Acid.

Early Sunday morning Mrs. Cooley, for several years an inmate of the county poor house at Wellsboro, walked into that institution's office, and securing a bottle of carbolic acid, which was kept there, drank a quantity of the poison. She died a short time later in great agony. Mrs. Cooley was about 55 years of age, and for some time past has shown evidences of mental derangement. This was probably the cause of her act.

FINE DASH BY W. & N. B. ENGINE

Made Eight Miles in Just Seven Minutes a Few Days Ago.

Because the Williamsport and North Branch railroad is not a large system and makes its way through a country that for the most part is rugged is not to be taken as an indication that its trains can not be made to jump along when the occasion demands, says the Williamsport Sun. Engines have made a couple of trips recently going at a mile-a-minute clip. Coroner Gilmore the other morning was given a thrilling ride in this fashion.

The coroner had worked about all night on the Philips inquest. He had to get back to the city Sunday to look after his patients. There is no train to connect with the early Philadelphia and Reading train that he wished to make and Manager Townsend, of the W. & N. B., arranged to let the doctor have a special to Halls. It was just an engine. The engineer expected to be called in the morning and the fact that he was not aroused in time was responsible for the lively dash.

When he was ready to start the trip he had just eight minutes in which to cover the six-mile stretch to Halls. He cut loose and the locomotive bowled along in record time. The coroner enjoyed the ride, even if it was something of the hair-raising order. They reached Halls with a minute to spare, the run having been made in only seven minutes.

The W. & N. B. had another similar spurt a short time ago. One of the conductors, named Manning, was cut about the hand at Sonestown. The blood flowed so freely from the gash that it seemed well to reach a physician with all possible speed. Manning boarded an engine and the trip from Sonestown down was made in an average of a mile a minute.

KNOX SOUNDS SLOGAN

Call to Pennsylvanians Expresses Desires of the President.

DUTY TO STATE AND COUNTRY

Shall President Roosevelt Look in Vain to the Republicans of the Keystone State—Extracts from the Senator's Pittsburg Speech.

"However the case may be in other states," says Senator Knox, "the line of cleavage in Pennsylvania is the President, his policies, and his success and intelligent and honest purpose in working them out. Pennsylvania is invited now to reverse its momentous verdict of approval of the President's administration two years ago when challenged in a national campaign for the same reasons now advanced."

He further remarks: "There are no differences between the three platforms as to reform measures. An honest reformer could stand upon the reform planks of either party. The Democratic platform expressly states "all important reforms the Republican platform now advocates have been consistently declared for and supported by the Democracy of the State for many years.

"Making the same concession as to the fitness of Mr. Emery and his associates that they make in respect to Mr. Stuart and his co-candidates, it is obvious that the issue is not the men. It is equally obvious that as between the Republican party and the Democratic party the issue is raised by the Republican plank indorsing President Roosevelt's 'splendid administration,' and by the Democratic plank denouncing the President's administration as a 'feeble and pretended' imitation of Bryan. That this is the issues as between the two great parties is too plain for further consideration."

In referring to the "partnership" between the Lincolnites and the Democracy, Senator Knox says:

Why Belittle President?

"If the Democracy were in good faith in desiring to co-operate with the Lincolnite Republicans to reform politics in Pennsylvania why should they, as a part of their program, belittle our President and name his successor? Their convention was not dealing with a national ticket or national issues except as they went out of their way to do so. I do not accuse Lincoln Republicans, except so far as they are seeking to defeat Republican Congressmen, of desiring to misrepresent and thwart the policies and activities of the national administration, but I am firmly convinced that their partners in their arrangement have deliberately led them into a most unfortunate situation.

"Remember, we are having this contest with Democrats, and their banners and their mottoes inscribed thereon will be in evidence upon the field of victory if this is to be a Republican defeat."

At another point he declares:

Must Not Repudiate Roosevelt.

"Let any one who doubts the absolute accuracy of what I say ask himself this question: What would the Democratic party claim in the next national campaign if Pennsylvania would change a half million votes in this campaign where the Democracy challenge the efficiency for the public good and high motive of the President?

"No hamlet in the land is so remote as to escape their triumphant heralds, who would proclaim the stupendous fact that the Keystone state had repudiated Roosevelt, and the cry that as Pennsylvania goes so goes the Union, would be the slogan of our political foes."

Marked An Epoch.

After lauding the splendid work of the recent extra session of the Republican legislature of Pennsylvania, Senator Knox adds:

"It is because of all this that when Theodore Roosevelt contemplated the work of this last session he was constrained to say that it 'marked an epoch,' to which he added that he did 'not recall any other state legislature which in a similar length of time has to its credit such a body of admirable legislation.'

"Even if I had not always been a Republican I would feel inclined to trust, at this time, the party that put in force this system of law so thoroughly protecting my political rights; but having always been a Republican, I cannot conjure up a single doubt as to my duty."

Then again he says:

"It has been demonstrated that the great rank and file of Pennsylvania Republicans desire all that is best in government. They stand for clean principles and practices and have provided the means by which they are to be certainly secured.

"We have cleaned house. Why should we now move out?

Honor to Be a Republican.

"If a man is ashamed of being a Republican in Pennsylvania today," said Senator Knox, at the conclusion of his Pittsburg speech, "there never was a time in its history when he could have made that claim with honor.

"I cannot understand the attitude of people who are standing aloof or opposing the election of Mr. Stuart, while freely conceding that his pledges and promises are all that is desirable and that he honestly intends, if elected, to administer the government of the state solely in the interest of the people.

"I cannot understand why a man should put up the cry of 'bossism' against an honest candidate who solemnly says he never recognized a boss, and in the most specific manner declares he never will.

"I cannot understand those who publicly proclaim that the political rights of the people have been fully secured by legislation, and then prophesy disaster to the state through the exercise of those rights by the people.

"And more mysterious than all to me is the attitude of those Republicans who claim to have been instrumental in bringing about these reforms by appealing to the Republicans of the state, and through them to the legislature of the state, who now, after their voices have been heard and their advice followed, mutiny against the ship whose course they claim to have directed and consort with those whose most charitable wish is that she may go to everlasting destruction upon the rocks."

Cole—Schuyler.

Oscar C. Cole, formerly of Towanda, and Miss Lena E. Schuyler, daughter of A. S. Schuyler, of Elizabeth, N. J., were united in marriage at the home of the bride in that city on Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles S. Kemble of the Park Methodist Episcopal church, only immediate relatives being present. Mr. Cole, who is a foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Cole, of Towanda, is a foreman in the Harrington Leather works in Elizabeth, and a prominent member of the Order of United American Mechanics; his bride is a member of the Daughters of Liberty, and a very popular young lady.

A. P. Sexton of Athens, has been appointed judge of elections in the Third district of Athens township, in place of the late Clarence Webb, whose death caused a vacancy on the election board.

TWO MONSTER ENGINES FOR P., B. AND E. RAILROAD.

Now in Towanda Freight Yards—Arrived Monday Over Lehigh Valley.

On the switch below Washington street near the electric light plant are two new six-driver passenger engines, Nos. 21 and 22, consigned to the P., B. and E. railroad. They are being held waiting instructions from the headquarters at Canton.

The engines, in charge of an experienced mechanic, came in Monday evening from the Rhode Island works of the American Locomotive company over the Lehigh Valley railroad and the man in charge is waiting to hear from the P., B. and E. officials regarding having the engines put into running order, but an unofficial statement was to the effect that they will be stored in the Lehigh Valley yards here until the new road has more track laid.

The engines are of the latest type of high-speed passenger engines and capable of doing heavy work. Both engines are of the same pattern and make, having six five-foot drivers, a water tank holding 7,000 gallons, a single door fire-box and weighing over 100 tons. They have a height of 14 feet 5 inches over all and a width of 9 feet 10 inches at height, and are fitted with the latest New York brake-valve. On each of the tanks are the letters, "P., B. & E." done in white.

Notice to Correspondents.

Owing to the unusual amount of political and advertising matter in this issue of the Reporter-Journal, it has been necessary to omit a number of communications entirely and to greatly cut down all others. The indulgence of the Reporter-Journal's efficient reporters is asked, for this one time, with the hope that it may not be necessary again.

Moved to Elmira.

M. E. Barnes, for some time a clerk for James Bennett in his liquor store, has gone to Elmira, where he has a position in a book bindery. His household goods are being shipped to that city where he will live. His friends wish him success. William Osborne of Towanda, will take his place in the store.

RESIDENCE BURNED IN TROY.

Early Morning Blaze Damages J. T. McCollum's Home.

Fire was discovered early Monday morning in the residence of J. T. McCollum, at Troy, which was put under control only after an hour's fight on the part of the firemen.

The wood work in the parlor was badly charred and showed that the fire had been smouldering during Sunday. It is believed to have originated in the furnace room, which is directly under the parlor. A man in passing noticed the smoke and aroused Mr. McCollum, who gave the alarm. Some of the furniture was saved. Most of the structure is standing. Mr. McCollum carries $3,000 insurance.

Publicity for the Farmer.

Advertising as an aid to the farmer was the theme of one of the addresses delivered before an agricultural convention at East St. Louis last week. The fact that there is "big money" in exploiting the products of the farm in the advertising columns of the daily papers was emphasized by the speaker, who said: "The farmer who dwells near a town or a city has an excellent chance of dealing directly with the consumer of his products, without the loss of time or unpleasantness induced by a house-to-house canvass. The middleman can largely be eliminated from his calculations in many cases, to the farmer's profit. A farmer has really more need to advertise the products of his farm in the columns of the newspapers published in the cities and towns within reach than has the local merchant."

Agent Simmers Accused.

Special Agent Robert M. Simmers, of the state dairy and pure food department, well knwon in this vicinity, is under charges at Philadelphia which will require an investigation. He is accused of having taken money illegally, and State Commissioner Warren insists on having all the facts disclosed. It is expected that Mr. Simmers will furnish the records of his work and office unhesitatingly.

Mother and Son Die of Diphtheria.

Mrs. J. P. Longwell, wife of the coroner of Tioga county, Dr. Longwell, died at 7 o'clock Sunday evening of diphtheria. Last Thursday their only son died of the same disease.

New Railroad Rates.

When you buy a ticket over the Lehigh lines after today for Wilkes-Barre, instead of paying $2.37, as you formerly did, it will cost you only $1.85. To travel to Philadelphia will cost hereafter $5.50, the former rate being $6.69. You can now go from here to Tunkhannock for $1.20 whereas it used to cost $1.44; Ithaca, former price from here, $1.40, now $1.20; the rate to New York city is changed only a few cents, because of the trunk line agreement, which fixes the rate to common points.

Manufactured Ice for Towanda.

On account of running out of ice J. H. Myer is shipping in ice manufactured at the Hygiene Refrigerator company's plant in Elmira. The ice is nice and clear and put up in 300 pound cakes. Mr. Myer necessarily has to handle the ice over several times before it is delivered to his customers, but will continue to ship this in for use with his other ice to keep them supplied.

The people of India are rejoicing over the fine returns of the wheat crop, the prospect being an increase of 13 per cent over that of the previous year. To those who have known the horrors of a shortage in past years this must be a cause of thanksgiving.

Experiments which have lately been made prove beyond doubt that hogs easily contract tuberculosis by drinking the milk from cows affected with the disease. In view of this fact the alarming prevalence of this malady among the hogs of certain dairy localities is not to be wondered at in the least, but quite the natural thing to expect.

A well balanced ration is made up of such foods as will maintain a proper ratio between the fat, bone and muscle forming elements. A balanced ration is as necessary for man as for beast. It is easy for one to become a one liner and indulge only in those things liked best. Often food taken in this way fails to sustain one as long as less of a more mixed variety.

In the middle west and the southern states, where the grape is extensively grown and much cherished, it becomes necessary to protect the fruit from dirt and insect. One method of doing this is by slipping a small paper bag over the bunches of grapes while yet on the vines. This is a simple and convenient arrangement and brings good results. Any one can do it.

A farm once infested with quack grass is likely to become a source of contamination to other farms for miles around through the sale of straw or hay. We noted a case recently along this line, where hay containing quack grass was sold to the town liveryman. In view of the fact that many farmers have manure from such places, it is easily seen how the pest could be spread far and wide.

The scarcity of help during this busy time makes the question of your sons' schooling a problem. As a rule, the country lad is quick and alert and will make good for his enforced absence from school if properly encouraged at home to look at his education in the right way. No matter what your boy's future career is to be, whether lawyer or storekeeper, minister or farmer, he cannot afford to give up his early school days, and he shouldn't be asked or allowed to give up that which is necessarily and rightfully his.

One who handles stock should not only be able to feed and care for them in the common, ordinary ways, but should be able to detect and recognize symptoms of disease and administer simple treatments in case of accident until competent help can be secured. Too often animals have to suffer from cold, neglect and unnecessary exposure. To be truly successful in the raising and handling of stock a man must have a warm spot in his heart for animals and be willing to bear some unpleasant things on their account. It is not only common humanity, but has a value in dollars and cents.

The man who is a jack at all trades, changing often from one thing to another, constantly altering his occupation and opinions, never gets anywhere in this world. The little he gains in one is lost in the changing to something else. So is this true of the farmer who is always changing the breed of his stock by taking up some fad or specialty. He never gets anywhere or has enough experience to make him an authority. Much valuable time is also lost in crop specialization unless one line is followed to the point of success or failure. Find out what, with your particular facilities, can be done best, then stick to it.

Some of the so called buttermilk retailed in the cities and elsewhere has never even associated with a lump of butter. It is made of skim milk, it being claimed that a very good quality of buttermilk can be made by allowing the milk to just sour, then placing in a churn and agitating until the curd is broken up in very fine particles and reduced to fine consistency. ravages of these insects. In this case the number of turkeys averaged about one to the acre. This manner of raising turkeys has several points in its favor if practical.

Geraniums which have given blossoms all summer are not the ones to take up for winter blooming, as their strength is exhausted, and they need a rest.

Hard coal is not an economical proposition to one who does not understand burning it. It requires careful handling as well as patience and time in order to prevent waste.

Instead of leaving the fallen leaves to blow about and lodge in some corner of the yard, rake them up and use as a bedding for plants. The rosebushes covered over with a ten inch layer of leaves will have a nice protection from the frost.

The world opens its eyes in wonder when it meets with a person who has never ridden on a train, and yet only about 3 per cent of the people travel more than fifty miles away from home during the year. The majority of people are reduced to a day's excursion or short business trips.

Faithfulness, carefulness and reliability, while not always found coupled with speed and capacity for work in those one hires to do his work, are, after all, the essentials and more highly prized than any other qualities by the employer and should be, therefore, cultivated to as great an extent as possible by employees.

There are many farms the sandy conditions of which will fetch a larger return in the shape of pasture than in the raising of any field crops. As a general rule, the longer such a piece of land is used as a pasture the better pasture it becomes, as the growth of roots tends to give it a surface which adds to its productive capacity and tends to conserve the moisture in the soil.

Like a bur under the saddle is that little thing which is out of repair and consequently ever a source of annoyance. There never seems any time in which to do the needed fixing, and it bobs up serenely at the most inconvenient times. To be sure, it doesn't take very long to mend a broken harness, brace up a teetery step, clean out a smoking chimney or straighten a rickety gate, but it is human nature to let it go until another time.

A Minnesota reader of these notes two years ago decided to quit the grain selling method of agriculture which is quite largely in vogue in his locality and go into the dairy business. We saw him the other day. He now has a dairy of fifteen cows and plans in the near future to increase it to thirty. His cream check for August, usually a short month, was $75. Under this system he has something coming in all the time, while his farm is increasing rather than decreasing in fertility.

For years past Maine has been known as one of the most successful potato raising sections of the country, and this year's output gives promise of still further clinching her claim in this particular. From Aroostook county alone, which is the center of this industry, there were shipped, during the year 1905, 6,694,071 bushels of potatoes. So great are the output and demand that it is now proposed to put on a line of steamers from the nearest seaport town to relieve the badly congested rail traffic.

English medical authorities are responsible for the statement that conditions existing in some of the private slaughter houses and packing plants of that country surpass in filth and loathsomeness even the most highly colored statements of conditions existing in similar institutions in this country. While the shakeup that was given some packing plants in this country as a result of the passage of the pure food law was rather severe, it will after all result in definite and permanent benefit to the live stock and packing interests of the country.

Experiments which have been carried on the past season at the Iowa experiment station show that a ton of cobs as thrown from the chute of a great corn canning factory have the capacity to produce eleven gallons of alcohol, worth, on the basis of 20 cents per gallon, $2.20. Moreover, it has been also discovered that a ton of the green stalks will produce six gallons of alcohol. The cobs are easily ground to a pulp, and the process of producing the alcohol costs but 3 cents per gallon. This discovery will doubtless result in the utilization of what has heretofore been a valueless byproduct and all around nuisance.

Following a recent statement that a good quality of paper can be made from cornstalks comes one since to the effect that a good quality of print paper can be made from the stalk of the cotton plant, a mill for that purpose having been built in Texas. The fact cited simply goes to show that the idea of economy which pervades modern business and industrial methods holds it a part of poor management to allow anything to go to waste. Present tendencies would seem to indicate that the economic progress of the future will consist quite largely in utilizing that which has been heretofore wasted rather than in the discovery of new products.

THE FARM HE WAS LOOKING FOR.

While the following instance may be entirely fictitious, it has a moral that should be taken to heart by thousands of middle aged people who have somehow become inoculated with the emigration fever and are bound to repeat their pioneer experiences at a time when much of the elasticity, push and perseverance of youth have been lost. A farmer well past middle age, who had worked hard and had, with the assistance of an equally industrious wife, accumulated a nice competence and who owned the old home farm free from debt, grew restless as a result of reading too many alluring real estate advertisements and after talking it over with his wife decided that they would list the farm for sale with the local real estate agent. Accordingly they had him come and look the farm over with a view to bringing out its strong points in an attractive advertisement. When the catalogue of the farm's merits was completed, including its fertile soil, unfailing supply of pure water, comfortable house, commodious barn and outbuildings, abundant shade and fruitful orchard, the owner leaned back in his chair, raised his spectacles and asked the agent to read the advertisement over, that he and his wife might know how it sounded. When the reading was done the old man was lost in thought for a minute and then said, "Waal, Martha, that's jest the kind of a farm we've been looking for all these years, and I guess we'd better stay right here and save the expense of moving." The decision this farmer made was a wise one, and his example could be followed with profit by hundreds who get the moving fever and yet who would in nine cases out of ten be more contented in the old home than in any they might make in a strange land.

THE SPIDER'S CRAFT.

The other day we had the privilege of witnessing the detailed maneuvers by which a spider, a little fellow, put a cricket of seven or eight times his weight out of commission and elevated him to a point where he could feast on him at pleasure. The cricket, hopping around on the floor, in some way got his hind legs tangled in some threads of the spider's web. It looked at first as though the little fellow would assist in releasing the intruder, and thus prevent a general smashup of his web, but far from it. He proceeded at once to attach two or three more threads to the cricket's legs, and while one, or even two, probably would not have been strong enough to lift the weight of the cricket from the floor, a half dozen or more threads, all elastic and exerting a lifting tension, proved sufficient, and he was successfully lifted to a point where he could no longer reach the floor with his front legs. When the spider had got this advantage the fight was better than half won. It was an easy matter next to encircle him with numerous threads and bind him hand and foot, so that further struggle was impossible. When last seen the cricket had been elevated to a distance of ten inches from the floor and the spider was extracting the juices from his body at leisure. A lesson that was derived from the spider's craft was the advantage which comes from being cool and collected. He was always so and calculated every move and the effect it would have. His victim, on the other hand, while possessing a much superior weight and strength, was badly scared and made a very ineffective exhibition of brute strength, which counted for nothing when matched with the spider's cleverness and skill.

THE FLOCK OF SHEEP.

We know of a progressive farmer who makes it a practice to ship in and feed from 300 to 500 sheep every summer, marketing them about Christmas time. In addition to giving him a profit of a dollar or more a head, he estimates that the flock more than pay for their keep in the service they render in the matter of clearing his stubble fields, fence rows and corners of troublesome weeds, it being his custom to turn the sheep into the fields before the weeds have matured their crop of seed. Another farmer of the same type turned a flock of sheep into a field which had become badly infested with plantain, with the result that they made a clean sweep. One of the most serious problems connected with farming as at present generally conducted is the matter of preventing the seeding of weeds after the tilled crops are laid by or the small grain is cut and thrashed. Early plowing is in a measure a preventive, but where it is possible to turn a flock of sheep into such fields an easy solution of the difficulty is provided. Such a system means better fencing, but this is bound to come as an essential phase of agriculture, in which better seed, better culture, blooded stock and flocks of sheep are bound to have a part.

CHILDREN AND COFFEE.

It is the best judgment of physicians and ordinary folk who have taken pains to observe that it is better for children under sixteen years to do without coffee, while if it is used by those above this age it should be mild. There are thousands of homes all over the country where strong black coffee drunk two or three times a day is responsible for stunted growth, nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness and a general run down condition in both young and old. If parents note these conditions and are at a loss to account for them, they will often find the coffeepot responsible. Give the children plenty of rich milk or pure water and note results. A good rule to follow in the drinking of coffee is to discontinue using it if the immediate abstaining from it causes distress or sense of lack. This condition shows plainly that it has a hold which it ought not to have.

The American Girl.

The American girl is a most interesting contradiction. She is regarded as the world's greatest representative of feminine freedom, and yet at the root of her character she is the most prudish of girls. She makes the best friend for a man, and yet his worst lover. She cannot deny that she is a flirt, and yet she is at heart hard and selfish. She will do the most unconventional things, and yet in no part of the world is etiquette more insisted on than in American society.—Madame of London.

BINGHAMTON HEROINE BRIDE ONCE AGAIN.

Lillian Adams Wedded to James James Vanderpool.

A wedding ceremony here yesterday which united two well known characters, was not only entertaining in itself, but served to bring to light the mystery which "baffled" the Binghamton papers and afforded many a smile at the expense of local readers of the illustrated metropolitan purveyor of "news" reaching here in the late afternoon.

The wedding was that of Mrs. Lillian May-Pond-Adams and James, somewhat more widely known among his friends as "Monkeyface" Vanderpool, who met at the altar of a Main street law office and promised eternal troth. The bride and groom will reside in the vicinity of Towanda.

About six weeks ago, Binghamton newspapers believed they had startled the world by telling of a Mrs. Lillian Adams, from Towanda, Pa., who in a religious camp meeting leaped to her feet and made a public confession that she had murdered her baby, being driven to the fearful deed by a cruel husband. Being in a merry mood on her most recent wedding day, which was Wednesday, and receiving the congratulations of her friends, the bride was moved into remeniscenses.

"What was the play back of that Binghamton camp meeting deal of yours, Lil?" asked an officer carelessly. "Our Lil's" face beamed as she answered, "Why, I had to go to jail at Binghamton and I wanted some one to go my bail. I had no money so I just thought if I could make a hit with some of the sisters, they would go bail for me. And it worked fine, didn't it?"

TRAMP ATTEMPTS ASSAULT.

Quick Witted Wellsboro Girl Frightens Him With Revolver.

At Wellsboro on Monday an unknown tramp attempted a dastardly assault upon Miss Ida Buzby, whom the villain found alone in her father's house. The Agitator says the tramp asked for food, and as Miss Buzby went to the pantry to get the food, the hobo walked into the house, locked the side and back doors and after sneaking about the lower part of the house and satisfying himself that the young woman was alone he went to the pantry and told her he would kill her if she made an outcry.

Fortunately there was an unloaded revolver on the pantry shelf and the brave young woman seized the weapon and ordered the tramp from the house. Needless to say he went promptly, for he was not sure that the revolver was not loaded and the bluff was as effective as if there had been a full load in the weapon.

As soon as the tramp had gone Miss Bzby hurried toward the front door to lock it, when the reaction from the fright caused her to faint in the hall and she was still unconscious when her father returned home about 11 o'clock.

There have been several similar attempts made in Wellsboro during the past few months, and the town is greatly aroused over this last outrage. Every effort was made to locate the tramp.

To Jail With Jeff.

Jeff Ross, who was arrested about a week ago in Sayre, on charges preferred by his wife, and who was released on a bail bond signed by Mr. Westfall, was again taken into custody by Chief of Police Mulligan of Athens on account of the bondsman surrendering the bail. Ross was brought Thursday to Towanda and incarcerated in the county jail until the courts can determine his case.

Injured at Bath.

Chief Miller Friday received a message from the overseer of the poor at Bath, N. Y., stating that on the evening before a woman giving the name of Mrs. George Burgess of Towanda, had been thrown from a wagon against a telephone pole and suffered a fracture of the skull which would cause death. The woman is better known here and at Athens as Maggie Fagan-Corneby.

"My Wife's Family."

A company of clever comedians, pretty girls and bright vaudeville stars, together with a musical farce comedy that created a sensation last season, such is the make-up of "My Wife's Family,' written by Hal Stephens and Harry Linton, which is announced for Thursday evening at Hale's Opera House.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. Correct any constipation by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated.

COUNTY TEACHERS ARE GOING TO WASHINGTON.

Low Rate Excursion Is Planned for Week Beginning December 17.

The excursion of Bradford county school teachers to Washington city now seems to be an assured fact for the week beginning Dec. 17. At the recent county institute in Towanda between 90 and 100 teachers signified their intention of joining the party, and it is expected to largely increase this number.

Under present plans it is proposed to have the special train leave Towanda on the forenoon of Monday, Dec. 17, starting from here late enough to enable teachers from other parts of the county to board it, and reaching Washington about 7:30 the same evening. The fare will not exceed the one way rate of $8.70 from Towanda, and the tickets will be good for ten days. It is not expected to be gone over one week, however, returning on Saturday so as to enable the party to spend Christmas at home.

The trip will be under the care of an experienced traveler sent by the railroad company. Cards to be given out on the train will provide for the transfer of baggage, hotel accommodations and board while in Washington. This will cost $2 per day. On the return trip lunch will be served without extra charge. This plan will give the party four full days in Washington.

Persons desiring any information about the trip or who wish to secure tickets, may write to Principal J. H. Humphries, Towanda; Principal Dennison at Troy, or Principal Stetler at Sayre.

RAILROAD BRIDGE PIERS COMPLETED ON MONDAY.

Mutchler & Son Finished Big Contract—Machinery Being Shipped.

On Monday at noon the contracting firm of S. B. Mutchler & Son completed their contract with the Lehigh Valley railroad company for the construction of the piers and abutments for the new bridge at this point, after a period of work lasting about six months, and a large proportion of the machinery used in doing the big job has already been shipped away and stored. Work was commenced about April 10.

The splendid weather of the past Summer and Fall has enabled the contractors to rush the work to completion. The finished work consists of two abutments and 13 piers. The western abutment is about 200 feet in length, standing some distance away from the original bank, and the space between has been filled in with gravel taken from the East Towanda cut. The Eastern abutment is nearly as long, starting above the old bridge and extending below it.

The piers are 33 feet high above foundations and nine feet six inches wide and 42 feet long on the top, while the base is 11 feet wide and 52 feet long. They are pointed at both ends, and have steel ice breakers on the upper ends.

The big cable way which was used in carrying the material to the piers will be dismantled next week.

WON'T HOLD SPECIAL COURT.

Wyoming County Case Will Be Continued Later.

There was to have been a special term of court held in Towanda on Nov. 12, to try the case of C. B. Little vs. Wyoming county, but owing to the protracted illness of a material witness, the trial has been postponed.

The case is one in which the plaintiff is acting as administrator, and has attracted some attention in a legal way. It was to have been brought to Bradford county, as a change of venue had been granted in order to make the trial of the case absolutely fair.

Goes to Glens Mills.

Ura Drake of Litchfield, was Tuesday sentenced by Judge Fanning to the Glens Mills house of correction. He is the lad who was found guilty of stealing from the Dayton farm, and who, after repeated efforts have been made to deal leniently with him, will now receive the attention of the state officials whose duty it is to guide such erratic spirits as Ura.

Largely Attended Funeral.

One of the largest attended funerals held in Towanda in a long time was that of William J. Bolan in the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Tuesday morning. The line of carriages bearing friends of the family reached from the church down to Lombard and Main and Park street.

Two Years for Dickerson.

John Dickerson, the young man arrested several days ago on four charges, to which he pleaded guilty, was taken before Judge Fanning on Tuesday and was sentenced to spend two years in the State penitentiary. Dickerson was out on suspended sentence at the time he commited the thefts which led to his arrest.

Another Bear.

Another bear is reported to have been seen over in Burlington vicinity, near where the one was shot last week and hunters are looking for bruin.

The fourth quarterly meeting of Pomona grange, No. 23, will be held with Iona grange, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 1 and 2.

Subpoena in Divorce.

Subpoenas in divorce were issued yesterday in the suit of Ruth Babcock vs. her husband, William H. Babcock.

SATURDAY'S STORM WAS SEVERE

Hurt Several Persons and Damaged Property Throughout County.

The thunder storm that passed over this valley Saturday afternoon was not nearly so severe in Towanda as in the nearby country. At Wysox the wind blew a gale, and at least two persons had narrow escapes from serious injury. They were Miss Emily Piollet, daughter of Louis Piollet of Wysox, and a young lady who was her guest; while driving in Myersburg, they encountered the storm, which blew a great shock of corn against their rig, tipping it over and throwing the occupants to the ground. They were taken home later and are not seriously injured beyond a bad shaking up and several bruises.

The storm seemed to reach the height of its fury in Myersburg, for according to a report reaching The Review yesterday, the wind took a roof bodily from the barn belonging to Joseph Tuttle of that place; brick chimneys were blown down, and considerable damage was done to the creamery and icehouse located in the hamlet. The barn on Mrs. Nancy Conklin's farm was also blown down.

A large barn in Franklin is reported to have been struck by lightning, and from several parts of the county comes word that the worst hail storm of the season had accompanied the wind and rain.

VanGorder—Weaver.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Weaver, in Athens, when their eldest daughter, Miss Lena Weaver, was united in marriage to William VanGorder of Sayre, in the presence of about 40 intimate friends and relatives. Promptly at 8 o'clock Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Lepici Kendall, was commenced and the bridal couple accompanied by Miss Harriet Weaver, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Harry VanGorder, a brother of the groom, as best man, entered the room where the ceremony was performed by Dr. W. G. Simpson of the Methodist church. Little Bessie Meade of Wilkes-Barre, was ring bearer. The groom is a machinist employed at Sayre, where they will reside.

Farmers in College.

It is estimated that at least 3,000 men, not boys, will, during the month of January, spend from one to two weeks at the corn schools and farmers' conventions held at the Agricultural colleges of the several states. Farmers' Week at the Pennsylvania State college, will be Dec. 27 to Jan. 2, six days and every one full of practical work, something to do or to hear. It will pay every man who grows corn, feeds steers, hogs, dairy cows, or poultry, or makes butter, to be present and take part in the judging and scoring work, discussions, etc. Do you expect to be there? Do you want a reduced railroad rate? If so, send your name on a postal card to Prof. H. E. Van Norman, State College, Pa.

Looking Into the Future.

The Towanda Daily Review has made another nice improvement by making a permanent feature of a six page, six columns to the page paper. There are two events which are very remote—when Bryan ceases to be a candidate for president and The Daily Review quits making improvements.—Albany Mirror.

Pennsylvania Baptist Officers.

At the closing session of the Pennsylvania Baptist association, held at Hollidaysburg, these officers were elected: President, Milton G. Evans, D.D., of Crozier Theological Seminary; corresponding secretary, Leroy Stephens, D.D., Greensburg; recording secretary, J. G. Walker, D.D., Philadelphia; treasurer, F. L. Tustin, Philadelphia.

Much Smoke, No Fire.

An alarm of fire late Friday afternoon caused by the sight of quantities of smoke pouring from the windows of G. C. Hollon's office at the corner of Main and Pine streets. The smudge came from building a fresh fire in the stove. The companies made a quick turn out, however.

Towandians Reached Wrangell.

A postal card dated Oct. 10 at Ketchikan, Alaska, from James Macfarlane, reported the safe arrival there of the Towanda party, and stated they would proceed to Wrangell the next day.

Belated Thunder Shower.

A thunder shower of midsummer proportions, with all the accompaniments of sharp lightning, heavy thunder and wind, broke over this section just at dark on Saturday night, presaging the sharp turn to colder weather that came next morning.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Breaks no Hearts, Excuses no Crimes.

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. It is composed of vegetable ingredients and does not heat or inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements which afflict women, the action of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this, in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business certificates never possess. It makes no drunkards—excuses no crimes—breaks no hearts. In its coming there is hope, and in its wings there is healing. We challenge a trial and are confident of the result. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. Bear in mind the name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

THE GRANGE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT.

Legislative Candidate Made Satisfactory Answers to Questions.

Through the columns of this paper the Bradford County Pomona Grange Legislative committee, appointed at the North Orwell session last February to work in conjunction with the State Grange Legislative committee, desires to submit to the members of the order and the reading public progress as to the work done.

The State Grange Legislative committee having a united action over the state, prepared the eight interrogatories here given to be submitted to all candidates for the general assembly regardless of party affiliations.

If elected will you support the following:

1. Will you vote to give trolleys the right to carry freight?
2. Do you pledge yourself to not accept personal transportation favors from any transportation company during your term of office?
3. Will you support a bill for a uniform passenger rate of two cents a mile?
4. Will you favor enforcing the constitution of Pennsylvania, especially the 17th article relative to the powers and duties of transportation companies?
5. Will you support a measure to permit the counties to retain all of the personal property and license taxes?
6. Will you favor an increase of state aid for township roads from 15 to 50 per cent.?
7. Will you favor an increased appropriation for centralized township schools, also for township High schools?
8. Will you favor equalization of taxation?

The committee submitted the above, also the resolution relating to direct legislation that was passed at the West Granville Pomona session held in August, as appeared in these columns, to all the several candidates in this district early in September.

The committee desire to here express their appreciation as to the promptness and courtesy shown them by each of the candidates, as every interrogation was frankly answered satisfactory to the committee.

The interrogations with answers have been forwarded to the State Granage Legislative committee, where they are on file for future reference. We wish to congratulate the order on the favorable outlook at this time to attain at an early date beneficial legislation such as has been long sought by the grange, not only in the interest of agriculture but to the "greatest good to the greatest number." We also desire to compliment the membership generally for the active interest and support manifest, not alone in legislative matters but in the several lines of grange work and believe that with a continual unity of action, still added helpfulness will follow the future work of the grange.

Fraternally submitted,

C. P. Shaw, A. M. Cornell, L. T. Manley, E. E. Chubbuck, committee.

ATHENS BURGLARS FRIGHTENED AWAY.

Attempt to Enter McMahon Store Through Broken Window.

By the severe storm of Saturday night one of the large plate glass windows in the front of the McMahan department store on the grocery side was broken and blown back into the store and until such a time as it could be fixed the glass was supported by a wooden framework it being thought that this would be sufficient protection from evilly inclined people as well as the elements. On Sunday night, however, a family residing over the store heard someone at the window evidently trying to get in and upon investigation it was found that an effort had been made to remove the boards placed back of the worst break in the glass.

The noise made by the family living over the store evidently frightened away the would-be burglars and no damage was done. Some time ago it is thought that someone went through this store as several dress waists, skirts and other articles of wearing apparel were missing and suspicion pointed to members of the Heeman family now in jail on charge of larceny of goods from a store at Lockwood.

The articles missing rom the McMahon store have not as yet been located, however, and may have been taken by someone still at liberty and responsible for the attempted entrance of Sunday night.—Sayre Times.

DICKERSON CHANGES PLEA.

Wants to Take His Case Before Judge Fanning.

After following the advice of the officers and others and pleading guilty to the four charges made against him last week, John Dickerson Saturday decided to withdraw his pleas, and so notified the authorities. He waives his hearing before the court, waives the finding of the grand jury and desires to go immediately before Judge Fanning, make a new plea and receive the sentence of the court.

Dickerson is the man whom Constable McCracken arrested last week upon complaint of several farmers and hotel keepers who declared he was making a regular business of pilfering farmers' wagons and hotel barns. To the four counts in the information Dickerson pleaded guilty, thinking that by so doing he might get off with a light sentence; now, however, he thinks he sees a term in the penitentiary staring him in the face and wants to throw himself on the mercy of the court.

MURDER SUSPECTED.

Apalachin Man Found Dead in Ruins of His Burned House.

A dispatch to the Owego Record from Apalachin, a hamlet in Tioga county, states that a man named James Toby, aged 35 years, married but living alone three miles East of that place, as his wife had separated from him, was found dead Thursday morning in the ruins of his house, which was burned during the night. His head and feet had been burned from the body.

One of the neighbors claims to have heard the report of a firearm in the night and it is supposed he may have been killed by burglars, who fired the house to hide the evidence of their crime.

Hightop In, Too.

Samuel Hightop Vanderpool has joined a number of his relatives in the Towanda jail, where he was brought Thursday, after being arrested at Athens by Chief Mulligan, for the alleged stealing of brasses and coal from the Lehigh Valley Railroad company. He was committed to jail after a hearing before Justice Johnson of Athens.

Car Thieves at Work.

Detective Schaffer reports that thieves broke into a freight car in the Sayre Lehigh Valley yards on Tuesday night and stole 12 pairs of shoes and ten suits of clothes. The officers are now working on a clue which may lead to the apprehension of the culprits.

From the lumber mills comes the reports that lumber has not been so scarce an article in years as it is now, and the indications are that the demand for all grades of first-class lumber will be stronger during most of the months this year than it has been for a long time. There is in fact an abnormal demand for it.
